CHILLY RECEPTION GIVEN BY MOSCOW TO WESTERN CONFERENCE SUGGESTION

By DENNIS NEEDL

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets today gave a chilly reception to Western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany but still left the door open to direct negotiations.

An English-language commentator on Moscow radio said the Western notes handed the Kremlin Monday, "do not contain a single more or less constructive suggestion capable of facilitating settlement of questions either of Berlin or of Germany. It all boils down to the same invariable 'no' the West has been giving us all the time," the broadcaster said.

The belief grew in the West that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev would press for Big Four summit talks—rather than a foreign ministers meeting—when he receives British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan this weekend.

With U.S. Secretary of State Dulles ailing, the suave, British premier appeared emerging as the coordinator of Allied policy in dealing with the Soviets. He told the House of Commons Thursday night that after his talks with the Soviet leaders, he would visit Bonn and Paris and "perhaps Washington with a view to formation of the Western allied policy."

BECK JAILED FOR INCOME TAX FRAUD

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Convicted of cheating on his income tax, millionaire labor leader Dave Beck Sr., 64, spent time behind bars for the first time in his life Thursday night.

The former president of the huge Teamsters Union was found guilty on all four counts of income tax evasion—covering $240,067 for the years 1950-53—and two counts of filing false returns. He could receive up to a five-year sentence and a $10,000 fine on each count.

U.S. Dist. Judge George Boldt, who set sentencing for Feb. 27, was to hold an appeal bond hearing in Seattle today.

Beck's lawyers said the verdict would be appealed "all the way." The one-time laundry truck driver, who prided himself on not smoking or drinking, appeared more shaken at having to spend the night in jail than by the verdict.

The portly Beck, nattily clad in a blue suit and polka-dot tie, gripped the edge of a table but showed little emotion as the clerk drew "guilty" six times Thursday afternoon. Later he was heard to remark to a friend he just couldn't understand why he had to remain in jail.

When found guilty, his $25,000 bail was revoked.

His quarters in the federal section of the city jail were a world apart from his lavish home in the so-called "Beck Compound" on (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Extortionist Says Rackets Inquiry Inspired Deed

NEW YORK (AP)—A 19-year-old drummer, who said he got big-time shakedown ideas from reading about the current Senate rackets probes, was held on an extortion charge today in an alleged scheme to get $3,000 from a Manhattan fish bait merchant.

The youth was identified by police as John Watson. He has played the drums with various musical groups around town, officers said.

Watson was accused of threatening Sol Goldberg with trouble from hoodlums if he didn't come across with $3,000. Goldberg, who is in his 60s, sells bait to commercial fishing boats.

Police said the youngster told them he wanted to buy a new set of drums for $1,800, and intended to send the rest of the money to his parents in New Hampshire.

Names of the parents and their whereabouts in New Hampshire were not disclosed by officers.

Cost of Living Index Shows Hike in January of One Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Higher food prices—reversing five months of decline—sent the government's measure of living costs up one-tenth of one per cent in January.

At the same time, average take-home earnings of factory workers reached a record for any January. The new monthly high was the first since 1957 when the business recession set in.

The Labor Department, reporting today the rise in its living cost index, noted it was still slightly below the November, 1958, record high.

The index stood at 123.8 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was one-tenth of one per cent below the all-time peak.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the nine months since April 1958, have been the longest period of comparative price stability since the index was established on its present basis in 1940.

It has fluctuated within a range of four-tenths of a point on the index scale.

Although spendable earnings and the buying power of factory workers dropped from December, they were at record levels for a January. It was the first time since the onset of the recession in 1957 that a monthly earnings record has been reached.

The price stability of recent months means there will be no increase in wages for 14 million (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Cat Has Penchant for Perching on Axles

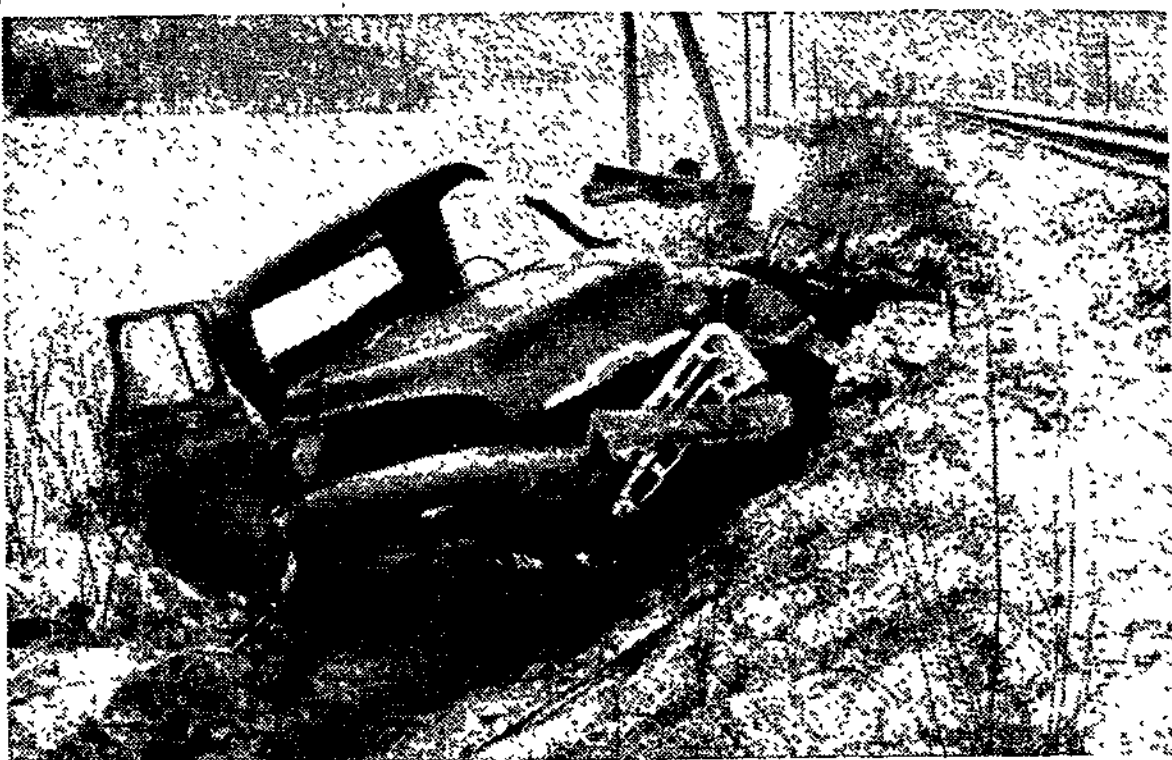

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—A cat with a penchant for perching on car axles is under observation at the Detroit dog pound.

Police noticed the cat when Mrs. Louise M. Stamenoff pulled up to a station and told an officer "I've been riding around in my car with this cat on my axle for over an hour. He keeps meowing under there. It's annoying. People are stopping and staring at me."

Cat psychology failed, so the police resorted to other means. They squirted the cat with a hose. He jumped off Mrs. Stamenoff's axle and climbed up on the axle of a police ambulance.

Dog pound attendants donned heavy gloves and went in after the cat. They got him.

Pick-up Truck Reduced to Junk

A grim reminder of an almost unbelievable fatal accident which instantly claimed the lives of Jack Rivett, 41, county employee at the Rouse Home at Youngsville and 17-year old Bobbie Rowland, son of Rouse Home superintendent Robert W. Rowland and Mrs. Rowland at 9:04 this morning. The Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by Rivett, was struck by the 581 Emporium to Erie PRR train heading west at a crossing directly fronting the Home. The vehicle was sheared in half, the victims being thrown free following the impact. Everett Stokes, Warren photographer snapped this telling portrait of death and destruction. Another view of the tragedy is pictured inside on page 16.

Too Many Unspoken Speeches in Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—Too many unspoken speeches and their way into the Congressional Record "like a thief in the night," says Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.).

Although he admits his chances are slim, Curtis is pushing for adoption of a resolution which requires that all speeches appearing in the record actually be spoken—and that they appear in the same form as spoken.

Powerful War Rocket Shatters Following Takeoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A burst of white light high in the sky early today marked the explosive ending of an Atlas ICBM after a three minute flight.

The powerful war rocket shattered to bits in a spectacular fireworks display over the Atlantic when an undetermined malfunction occurred, the Air Force announced.

The 80-foot missile was blazing at full steam on the start of what reportedly was a 4,900-mile flight test when it burst apart.

The surprise blowup broke an impressive string of seven successful launchings in the last five months for the huge missile that carries U.S. hopes of catching the Soviets in the space race in the near future.

Atlas No. 21 rose precariously with a brilliant flash at 12:38 a.m. and appeared to be performing smoothly as it looped over and darted toward the southeast.

Cat psychology failed, so the police resorted to other means. They squirted the cat with a hose. He jumped off Mrs. Stamenoff's axle and climbed up on the axle of a police ambulance.

Dog pound attendants donned heavy gloves and went in after the cat. They got him.

Station Owners Favor Bill to Outlaw Wars

HARRISBURG (AP)—A spokesman for Pennsylvania's gasoline station operators today was on record favoring a bill introduced in the House to outlaw gas price wars.

John Huemmerich, Pittsburgh, president of the Associated Retail Gasoline Dealers of Pennsylvania, said Thursday the bill would help both the consumer and the small dealer. His organization claims to represent 2,175 operators.

The measure, introduced Monday night, would make discrimination in pricing subject to a fine ranging from $100 to $500 or up to 30 days imprisonment.

BOY SHOOTS SELF

GROVE CITY, Pa. (AP)—A gunshot wound, which police say was self-inflicted, has proved fatal to George Norman Black, 16, of Foxburg, Clarion County. Black died Thursday in Grove City Hospital. George Black, the boy's father, told hospital officials Wednesday he heard his son shoot himself in his bedroom.

Most Severe Cold of the Season Holds East in Grasp

Numbers Racket Headquarters in Pittsburgh Raided

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A squad of police raiders who had prepared four months arrested 13 persons, Thursday evening in a suburban home officers said, was headquarters for a $150,000 to $200,000 daily numbers operation. Led by Acting Lt. John James of Pittsburgh, the raiders used a sledge hammer to smash the front door of the private home on Old Clairton Road in Jefferson Borough.

The raid touched off a scramble to escape but the officers halted further flight by firing a warning shot. Sam Grosso, one of the 13 and a member of the Grosso family which has often figured in the news, dived through a basement window. He escaped injury.

Officers seized more than 200,000 alleged numbers slips, $1,400 in cash and a variety of equipment that included adding machines and money changers.

"This is the biggest operation I've ever seen," said James, the Pittsburgh Police Dept.'s chief raiders.

All 13 were charged with lottery. Bond was set at $5,000 each pending hearings this afternoon.

Recommendation Of Tax Committee Draws Criticism

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rep. Francis Worley (R-Adams) today held that boosting the state sales tax from 3 to 3½ per cent would "soak the poor."

He made the comment in criticizing several recommendations by Gov. Lawrence's bipartisan Tax Advisory Committee. The sales tax increase was proposed Monday as a cornerstone of a $400 million dollar tax package.

"I was against the sales tax from the beginning because it's a poor man's tax," Worley said in an interview. "Now they're going to make it worse."

He was the only Republican to vote against the 3 per cent levy. Worley said he thought the present tax was too selective.

He contended the committee's recommendations for extending the sales levy to electric and telephone bills and for starting the tax on restaurant meals from 10 cents instead of 50 cents also would work a hardship on "the average man."

"I honestly think the fairest tax is the graduated income tax. I've been in the House for 16 years—at the end of this term—long enough to hear this tax business kicked around a lot. I think the public has a right to decide the issue."

If the Legislature approves a constitutional amendment to permit a graduated tax, the voters would make the final decision on the amendment.

New Kane Area School To Be Dedicated Sunday

KANE, Pa. (AP)—The Kane Area Joint Junior High School, built at a cost of $1,200,000, will be dedicated Sunday.

Opened last September, the school has a capacity for 450 pupils.

C. Stuart Edwards, director of admissions at Bloomsburg State Teachers College, and a former instructor in Kane Senior High School, will give the dedication address.

Driver and Passenger Meet Instant Death When Pickup Is Struck by Morning Train

A pair of well-worn boots standing in a field swept with powder snow and icy winds stood in mute evidence of a morning tragedy which claimed the lives of a man and boy at the Rouse Home PRR crossing, when a pickup truck was completely demolished when struck by Train 581 bound for Erie.

Jack Rivett, 41, and Bobbie Rowland, 17, were instantly killed at 9:05 a. m. today and the small Chevrolet truck in which they were driving sheared completely in half. The front part of the truck was thrown into a ditch along side of the railroad track, the rear ending up a short distance away. The bodies were flung from the vehicle following the impact.

The Emporium and Erie train, carrying four cars and two diesel units, due to leave Warren at 8:41 was running a few minutes late, departing from Youngsville at 8:56 a. m. According to a statement given to investigating officials Engineer Adolph Migdal, Erie, who was in the lead unit, said he saw the truck traveling north of the crossing headed south from a distance of 400 feet. The train's whistle was blowing, and bell ringing, according to the engineer, his statement verified by several witnesses in the area of the fatal accident. The truck started to slow but continued on. According to Migdal, when he realized the vehicle was not going to stop, he threw the train into emergency, but was unable to stop in time to avoid the impact. Speed of the train was established at approximately 50 m.p.h., the speed allotted for that portion of track.

Chief deputy Sheriff, Donnell Allen, Jr., was summoned to the scene by Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, to assist in the investigation, and said that officers determined that an unobstructed view of track was possible at quarter-mile distance from both directions.

Engineer Migdal's statement was substantiated by Conductor, Leon B. Roberts, Erie and (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Cypriots Start Independence Demonstrations

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Turkish Cypriot school children demonstrated noisily today against the agreement to bring independence to Cyprus. British troops were called out to prevent disorders.

Greek Cypriot students in the port of Paphos participated in celebration of the successful conclusion of the London conference.

There were a few celebrations in other towns but Cypriots generally assumed a cautious wait-and-see attitude.

The student demonstrators were dispersed without incident. Soldiers patrolled the border between the Greek and Turkish sectors of the capital.

During the demonstration, Turkish children chanted: "Death to Makarios" (Greek Cypriot leader and archbishop) and "partition or death."

But in the capital for hours there was a restrained—almost ominous—feeling broken only this morning by a demonstration of young Turkish Cypriot students shouting the Turkish community's old cry for "partition or death."

Latest Report Says Gen. Marshall Sinking

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—The latest medical report on Gen. George C. Marshall says simply, "No change." It meant the retired soldier-statesman was holding his own against the weakening influences of age, two strokes and mild pneumonia.

The last full report, late Thursday contained a faint note of optimism—but only a note. Col. George B. Powell, the general's physician, cautioned that Marshall's "condition still is considered serious and the prognosis still is guarded."

Marshall, 78, entered the Army hospital here after his first stroke Jan. 15. The second stroke came Tuesday night along with the pneumonia.

Indicted in Plot To Murder Wife Of Her Employer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A grand jury Thursday indicted secretary Pauline Weiss on a charge of solicitation to commit murder in an alleged plot against her employer's wife.

The grand jury threw out a charge of attempted murder against Miss Weiss, 48.

Police said Miss Weiss confessed trying to hire a professional killer to slay Muriel Griffin, 53, of suburban Devon. She told police she was in love with and hoped to marry Mrs. Griffin's husband, Willard, 58, publishing firm executive.

Miss Weiss already had made payments of $225 toward the $600 fee for a hired killer when she was arrested Feb. 5 by a detective posing as the third gunman.

The indictment count is a misdemeanor, punishable by not more than two years imprisonment and a $500 fine.

JOBLESS CLAIMS DROP

HARRISBURG (AP)—Unemployment compensation claims in Pennsylvania for the week ended Feb. 13 dropped from 345,285 to 336,592, the State Employment Security Bureau reported Thursday.

New claims dropped 13 per cent during the week to 33,184, the bureau said.

RECEPTION IN ACAPULCO PLEASES IKE

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—Refreshed by a few practice golf shots on a short hotel fairway, President Eisenhower turned today to the final round of his informal exchange of views with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico. The U. S. President was host at luncheon.

Eisenhower's two-day goodwill visit to this tropical resort on the Pacific Coast ends tonight. He planned to fly overnight to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf, or direct to Washington if the Augusta weather is bad.

Eisenhower and Lopez Mateos exchanged pledges of international friendship when the U.S. President arrived Thursday. Then they talked informally aboard the Mexican chief executive's yacht, the Soltavento, during a four-hour cruise.

When they came ashore late in the day, spokesmen announced they had discussed the proposed Diablo Dam, a 100-million-dollar structure which would be built and financed by the two governments on the Rio Grande border about 12 miles from Del Rio, Tex.; Mexico's coffee industry, its production of lead and zinc and Mexican concern about competition between its cotton crop and that of the United States.

Neither White House press secretary James C. Hagerty nor the Mexican spokesman would provide any detail on the discussions.

Eisenhower got a rousing welcome on his arrival at Acapulco and another enthusiastic reception when he motored through the heart of the city to board the yacht. He drew more cheers when he was the dinner guest of the Mexican president at the Mirador Hotel.

Among the guests at the presidential table was former British Prime Minister Anthony Eden, who retired in January 1957 because of ill health. It was his first public appearance since coming to Acapulco last Dec. 17 to convalesce and work on his memoirs.

Panama Capitol Confronted With Defiant Crowds

By LUIS NOLI

PANAMA (AP)—Defying President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr., a crowd of thousands today installed 11 new city councilmen of its own choosing.

The crowd seized control of City Hall Wednesday after the black-jacking of a radio commentator who accused the regularly elected City Council of mishandling city funds. That Council refused to resign, and President de La Guardia said he had no authority to remove it because the councilmen's four-year terms ran until 1960.

De La Guardia has appealed for the people to wait until an investigation could be made of the financial charges.

Leaders of the popular movement announced a general strike would be called if necessary to put the new council in full control.

Blue Cross Adopts New Outpatient Diagnostic Plan

Pennsylvania State Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith has approved a new Blue Cross Standard D Agreement which includes outpatient diagnostic benefits. This new Blue Cross Agreement will be offered to residents of Western Pennsylvania in combination with new Blue Shield coverage for outpatient diagnostic services.

Under this combined offering, the outpatient diagnostic portion of the new coverage will be provided jointly by Blue Cross and Blue Shield, with Blue Cross paying for services rendered and billed for by the hospital, and Blue Shield covering such services outside the hospital when performed and billed for by doctors.

Commissioner Smith's action was commended by William H. Ford, President of Hospital Service Association of Western Pennsylvania, as "an important forward step in meeting the public need and desire for comprehensive health care protection."

The Standard D Agreement will include all inpatient benefits of the comprehensive Blue Cross Standard Agreement first offered to the community in 1957, plus the combined Blue Cross-Blue Shield benefits for required outpatient diagnostic study of a symptomatic condition of illness or injury. These diagnostic services consist of X-ray, electrocardiographic, or electroencephalographic examination and basal metabolism tests.

Although many details for enrollment and processing the new Standard D contract must yet be completed, the Association stated, it has been determined that the new benefits will be available on both semi-private and ward agreements. Public announcement will precede the offering.

National Junior Honor Society

Pictured in the above Timesphoto by Saylor, taken during an assembly in Beaty Junior High School auditorium this morning, are the 15 new members of the National Junior Honor Society. Left to right, back row, Nancy Mathis, Carol Simones, Sharon Seiber, Fred Haer, Elsa Johnson, Anne Lewis, Carol Cleveland; middle row, Robert Schaeffer, Dennis Douds; front row, David Moore, Susan Lucke, Doris Anderson, Edwina Anderson, Patty Borger, Joseph Lucia.

In an assembly held this morning at Beaty Junior High School, the following 15 ninth grade students became members of the National Junior Honor Society:

Doris Anderson, Edwina Anderson, Patricia Borger, Carol Cleveland, Dennis Douds, Fred Haer, Elsa Johnson, Anne Lewis, Joseph Lucia, Susan Lucke, Nancy Mathis, David Moore, Robert Schaeffer, Sharon Seiber, Carol Simones.

Parents of the new members were present for the program.

The assembly opened with Dr. Whipple in charge of devotions. The new members, unaware of their selection prior to the assembly, were called to the stage by Jane Lauffenberger. Linda McKelvy, another member of the Beaty chapter, welcomed parents and explained the program.

Honor Society officers spoke about the four qualities necessary for membership. Gail Watt, president, spoke on scholarship; Peggy Holt, vice president, service; Helene McClure, secretary, stressed leadership; Jim Hubbard, treasurer, character. Following explanation concerning the candle lighting by Jack Bufton, new members received the pledge from Mr. Powell, principal, and obtained pins and membership cards.

The assembly closed with singing of the Beaty Alma Mater.

Parade of History Makes National Guard Units the Shield of Freedom Today

(Editor's Note: In the interest of the public knowledge on Army National Guard units the following information on the oldest military unit in United States is published. Citizens are reminded of the Muster Day observance in the Army on Liberty street all day Saturday. At this time, populace may inspect the Armory, the facilities there, and view displays.)

One major aspect of National Guard program is that it provides important military protection to our nation at a considerable savings to taxpayers. Without the Guard, it would be necessary to maintain a much larger standing Army and Air Force.

It is estimated that the pay of a Guardsman is approximately one-sixth that of his active-duty counterpart. In addition, Guardsmen provide their own food and shelter. A further instance of economy is that during the Korean emergency, units turned over to the Army more than $194-million worth of urgently needed equipment which the Guard had rebuilt after World War II.

Army Guard is made up of 21 infantry divisions, six armored divisions and hundreds of other combat and support type units. These include air defense artillery battalions, field artillery battalions, regimental combat teams and armored cavalry regiments. In all, there are approximately 4,800 company-size units and detachments throughout United States and its territories.

Training of Guards is carried out under supervision of the Active Center.

Since mobilization readiness is the shortest distance (in terms of training time) between the armory and the battlefield after the shooting begins, the level of training the Army National Guard achieves before it begins its primary importance. Ultimate goal, set by Continental Army Command, is to have all Army National Guard units without prior military service—except those with special skills—are required to take six months of active duty training at an active Army Training unit so highly trained that it will take only a minimum time to prepare them for combat in the event of war.

Army National Guard maintains a total of more than 64,000 wheeled vehicles, and has more than 3,200 tracked vehicles, including some 2,400 tanks. Each summer, the Warren unit with others from all over the state, spends two weeks of field training at Indiantown Gap, their preparation for disaster.

Open house tomorrow at the Warren Armory on Liberty street is expected to draw hundreds from this area. A complete program covering all phases of the Armory, its men, facilities and equipment will be available to the public. Drills for Company I members begin at 8:30, the Armory thrown open for civilian inspection from 1 to 5:30 p. m.

Dragon Concert Band Has Double Assembly Programs

In Warren High School this morning, students were pleasantly entertained with a double assembly program given by the Dragon Concert Band under the capable direction of Harry A. Summers.

Describing the event, the news-writing class has prepared the following report:

The concert was opened by the stirring PMEA March. Following this Mr. Summers explained that the music furnished by the band would show the organization as a versatile one playing a wide variety of music, not just "On Wisconsin!"

Next came "Get Me to Church on Time," "I Could Have Danced All Night." The presentation of the 10-minute-long Overture from "My Fair Lady" by Lerner and Love captivated the students through its excellent presentation.

David Chase then added the variety of the trumpet solo entitled "Norine" to the program. Although he is a sophomore who will contribute much more to his school, his capable presentation showed long practice and care.

The band then played beautifully the well-known "Sentimental Journey." In this Patty Armstrong with her clarinet and Jim Swanson with the trumpet, held the spotlight in solo spots. The next number played by the ensemble was "Berceuse" by Godard.

First presented by the Marine Band was "Piano Tuner," a combination band plus piano selection. This number from the annual concert was again presented with Sue Werner at the piano.

Mr. Summers who is already planning the football shows to be a part of the 1959 season introduced the number entitled "Festive Calypso" which is a dance number to be a part of one of those shows before the home crowd. It had students wishing to get up and dance with it.

Concluding the assembly was the band's presentation of "Easin' Street Blues." The assembly in its complete program did bring out the wide range of music from the classical to the lighter types.

Enthusiastic applause by the students in both assemblies was a sincere tribute to the band and its leadership.

RIVER STILL DROPPING

According to Observer Gil Reier the Allegheny River at seven o'clock this morning had dropped to a 5.8 stage.

KILROY? WAS THERE

A local resident had an unusual experience Tuesday while driving to Warren from Jamestown via Frewsburg, N. Y. on business. Hearing sirens wailing behind him as he was about to make the familiar turn toward home, he pulled into the wide drive-fronting the Mahoney Liquor Store at Frewsburg to make way for whatever vehicles were sounding. The sirens closed in as police from the area arrived to question the liquor store's manager about an armed robbery, which had occurred but a brief time prior to their arrival. In the meantime, the lad allegedly responsible for the Frewsburg hold-up and one other similar job in Chautauque county, has been charged by Pennsylvania State police as a fugitive from justice. According to the Warren man, Mahoney could, at first describe the gun used perfectly, but had a bit of trouble with a description of the youth wielding it!

The assembly closed with singing of the Beaty Alma Mater.

REED FUNERAL SUNDAY

Funeral services for Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), of Dunkirk, who died in Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington Thursday, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in Adams Memorial Unitarian church in his home town. A delegation of 25 Congressmen, appointed by Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas), will attend the last rites for the 83-year-old western New Yorker who was the dean of GOP congressmen. The rite Sunday will follow a service at a funeral home in Washington, D. C., at three p. m. Saturday. Bunal will be in Reed's native town of Sheridan.

RAMS UTILITY POLE

Jeff Branch, 16, Hemlock street extension, told police last night that he left out on the clutch too fast while turning from Second avenue onto Water street, losing control of his car and running into a utility pole. Dennis Bennett, 17, suffered abrasions of left forehead, and a lacerated left ear. Larry Brown, 17, sustained a severe laceration of the right knee. Both were passengers in Branch's car. Damages were estimated at $200.

The Red China of Today

(Part IV)

Life in a Model Commune

Editor's Note — Life in a Chinese people's commune is organized to the last detail, and production is rationalized, but what happens to the individual? Dr. Sripati, Chandrasekhar tells about the strange social experiment he studied first-hand during his travels in Red China. This is the fourth of five articles on his trip.

By Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Communist Chinese officials are very proud of their latest development in agricultural production and ownership, the communes, for here they have gone one step beyond the Soviet Union.

During my six-week trip through Red China, I visited four communes. The one which was best organized from the official point of view—a kind of showpiece—appeared to control every conceivable aspect of human life from morning to night, from birth to death.

The Chilli Yin people's commune is located about 80 miles north of Chingchow in Honan Province.

This commune was set to pattern for the whole country and was organized in the upsurge of the "big leap forward" in agriculture.

Chairman Mao Tse-tung of the Chinese Communist party happened to visit this place to see the agricultural cooperatives and all the peasants met him and declared they wanted real communism. But the cadres (the officials) were lukewarm.

Mao agreed with the peasants on the need for communes and pointed out that they were more progressive than their officials. And the next day, July 20, 1958, the people's commune came into being. That's what the director told me.

This commune was made up of 68 villages. The houses, the land, the implements, the cottage industries and the kitchen utensils were all owned by the commune. It also owned and ran a few iron smelters (steel production is becoming a cottage industry), repairing mills, wheat flour mills, tailors' establishments, tile and brick kilns, fertilizer plants, etc.

The commune managed 228 public canteens where all adults ate in hotel-type dining halls. There were 135 public nurseries where babies from a week to four years old were taken care of. There were 130 kindergartens where children from 4 to 6 years old were housed and taught.

There were also two middle schools where 1,450 students between 7 and 18 years received some instruction. There were 36 Red and expert schools (Socialist, professional and technical schools).

The commune also ran two large rural hospitals with 14 outpatient departments which administered traditional Chinese medicine (like herbs and skinpuncture). The adult population was distributed over 146 productive teams to work in rice, vegetable and cotton fields, small industries, canteens, public nurseries, schools, hospitals and so on.

All the village houses were owned by the commune, and there was not an empty room anywhere. I visited two of the 24 "happy homes for the aged." The old people were housed in former landlords' homes. They were in the 65-70 age group and appeared to be happy.

What is the working day like in this commune?

Men and women wake up in the morning to the blare of loudspeakers in the streets. After half an hour of exercise in the open air—there is tremendous emphasis on physical fitness—they go off to the canteens for a communal breakfast.

Then they break up to form different production teams based on the individual's ability and aptitude for work. Husbands and wives, parents and grown-up children are not necessarily on the same team.

The teams go off to their allotted tasks in the fields and factories. They reassemble at noon in the various canteens for a simple lunch of rice, cabbage and sweet potato and occasionally a little pork. Lunch over, they march off again to their appointed tasks.

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I find writing is an ecstasy and an anguish. I'm miserable when I'm doing it, but I can't wait to begin again."

This helps explain why Fannie Hurst keeps turning out books after a distinguished career that has spanned four decades. Her autobiography has just been released. On the train to California, she put the finishing touches on the latest of her many novels.

"After I complete each book, I tell myself it will be the last," she said. "But I know it isn't. Every real writer has a compulsion to write that transcends everything."

Even money, she added. Many writers have come to Hollywood and made so much money that it proved foolish tax-wise for them to write books. Such would never happen to Miss Hurst.

"I came out here in the '30s to adapt 'Luminox,'" she recalled. "I quickly discovered that this was not the life for me and I went back home."

Home is New York City, though she is St. Louis-born. She went to an ace.

"East's double of six spades was a perfect example of the Lightner slam double convention which calls for an unusual lead. He was void of clubs and since Boris had opened one club a lead of that suit would be the most unusual lead at West's disposal."

"West knew that his partner West was too smart for that. He was asking for a club lead but he only held three clubs. How could East be void? He only held two hearts. How could North be void of that suit?"

"West decided that his partner was just doubling on general strength and opened the ten of hearts. Naturally enough, I had no trouble making all the tricks."

Walter fails to point out that North could not have been beaten if he had been declarer at six spades but he is very charitable about West. East and West were supposedly good players and were playing the slam double convention. West should have trusted his partner.

TODAY'S WOMEN

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

The best way to pierce the iron curtain is with a home-cooked American meal, says Myra Waldo, gourmet cook, inveterate traveler, talented wife and cookbook author.

The slight but determined Myra cooked and served an old-fashioned, all-American Thanksgiving dinner for 50 Soviet citizens at the Technical Institute of Food and Nutrition in Moscow two years ago.

"When the meal was over all 50 would have left for America on the next plane, if they could," she says. "They ate as if they had never tasted real food before."

They sat down at the table a group of basically antagonistic people and were turned into warm friendly human beings just by one good meal."

Myra and her husband, lawyer Robert Schwartz, spend much of their time traveling and the rest cooking—with interludes of course for attention to business. They've been on safari in Africa, have eaten in native huts in India, always keep their bags packed and their passports in order for a quick takeoff to anywhere.

On the Soviet trip, Myra was determined to show the Soviets how America eats. She took along 200 pounds of canned and packaged foods and then spent weeks getting official permission to cook her long-planned meal. From the packages she produced clam chowder, turkey with chestnut dressing, wild rice, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, cranberry sauce, cucumber salad, pecan and pumpkin pie. She made hot rolls from a packaged mix, whipped up some instant mashed potatoes and produced an angel food cake.

Myra says she became a gourmet cook because she was exposed to exotic foods as a child, when she traveled over most of the world with her father.

"By the time I was six I could eat anything except plain food," says Myra. "When I got married my husband shared my tastes."

"I think good cooks could settle most of the world's problems, around the dining table."

...power

From America's most unusual automotive plant...Imperial, most thoroughly tested motorcar of its time.

NOT RAW, UNBRIDLED POWER. Not irresponsible speed. Not hungry, violent horsepower.

Imperial power is mature, obedient power . . . under constant and gentle rein.

It is a new kind of power, decreed by the only totally new engine in the fine car circle. Its pistons move more slowly. Its crankshaft turns fewer times in a given distance. All its moving parts move less busily.

Yet, with all its calmness, all its saving of fuel and friction, the new Imperial engine develops greater forward thrust, greater wheel-turning power, more liveliness per pound than any other automotive engine of 1959.

You expect Imperial to be luxurious, exquisitely tailored, elegant to a fault. You expect generous space, comfort, good taste . . . for these are Imperial trademarks.

But to find such agility in a car this size . . . such spirited responsiveness, such lightning-quick controllability . . . this is the constant surprise . . . the recurring satisfaction. This is the "feel" an Imperial owner loves.

Won't you ask your Imperial dealer to show you how much more elegant elegance can be when it's generously spiced with eagerness?

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 20, 1959

MUSTER DAY

In colonial days it was the custom for the able bodied men of the community, all of whom were counted in the local militia, to assemble for a roll call and inspection of arms once each year on the village green. The days came to be known throughout the colonies as Muster Day. As the country grew in size and population, militia units became more formal military organizations; some of them even had uniforms and engaged in regular training.

Today's National Guard, a direct descendant of the militia, composed of more than 6,000 Army and Air units throughout the country and the Territories, with a strength of 470,000 well-trained men, and equipped with modern weapons ranging from sidearms to jet aircraft, is a far cry from the flint lock and musket carrying militia of yesteryear.

Citizens will have the opportunity to see first hand the operations of Warren's Company I Armory on Liberty street Saturday. The Company extends a cordial welcome to all residents of the area to attend the open house tomorrow and inspect the Armory, equipment and facilities.

We salute the National Guard on this 1959 Muster Day!

SYMBOL OF SINCERITY

In the midst of cold wars, space races and multibillion dollar budget hassles, the nation pauses once again to observe the anniversary of George Washington's birth.

How far away it is getting, now 227 years. Washington's birthday now stands just about midway between the date of Columbus' first voyage and our day. History goes on, and as if seen from the back of a vehicle speeding along a road, events flash past and recede farther and farther into the distance.

It is hard for us to imagine the world as it was in Washington's day, when the divine right of kings was the ordained order of life and the word "democracy" was distasteful even to some to whom kings were distasteful.

Washington was born into a time of intellectual revolt which was later to be translated into lasting social revolution. Not only this country but the whole world over has experienced innumerable revolutions since then—political, economic, as well as social.

But one thing unites us with Washington and his time, aside from the fact that we are the inheritors of the nation which he helped found and nourish. And that is the intellectual spirit of his era, the flowering of rationalistic thought in the 18th century which found its highest expression in phrases such as "the rights of man," "liberty, fraternity."

Too often we pay but lip service to those ideals. Too often the Communists are able to throw the phrases in our teeth, and too often we can make no honest reply.

We must not lose touch with the ideals of Washington, especially under the threat of Communist competition for the national souls of the many new nations which have overthrown foreign or domestic tyranny and started on the often-perilous road of democracy in this century.

May they never have reason to cease looking to America—the land of Washington—for inspiration and help.

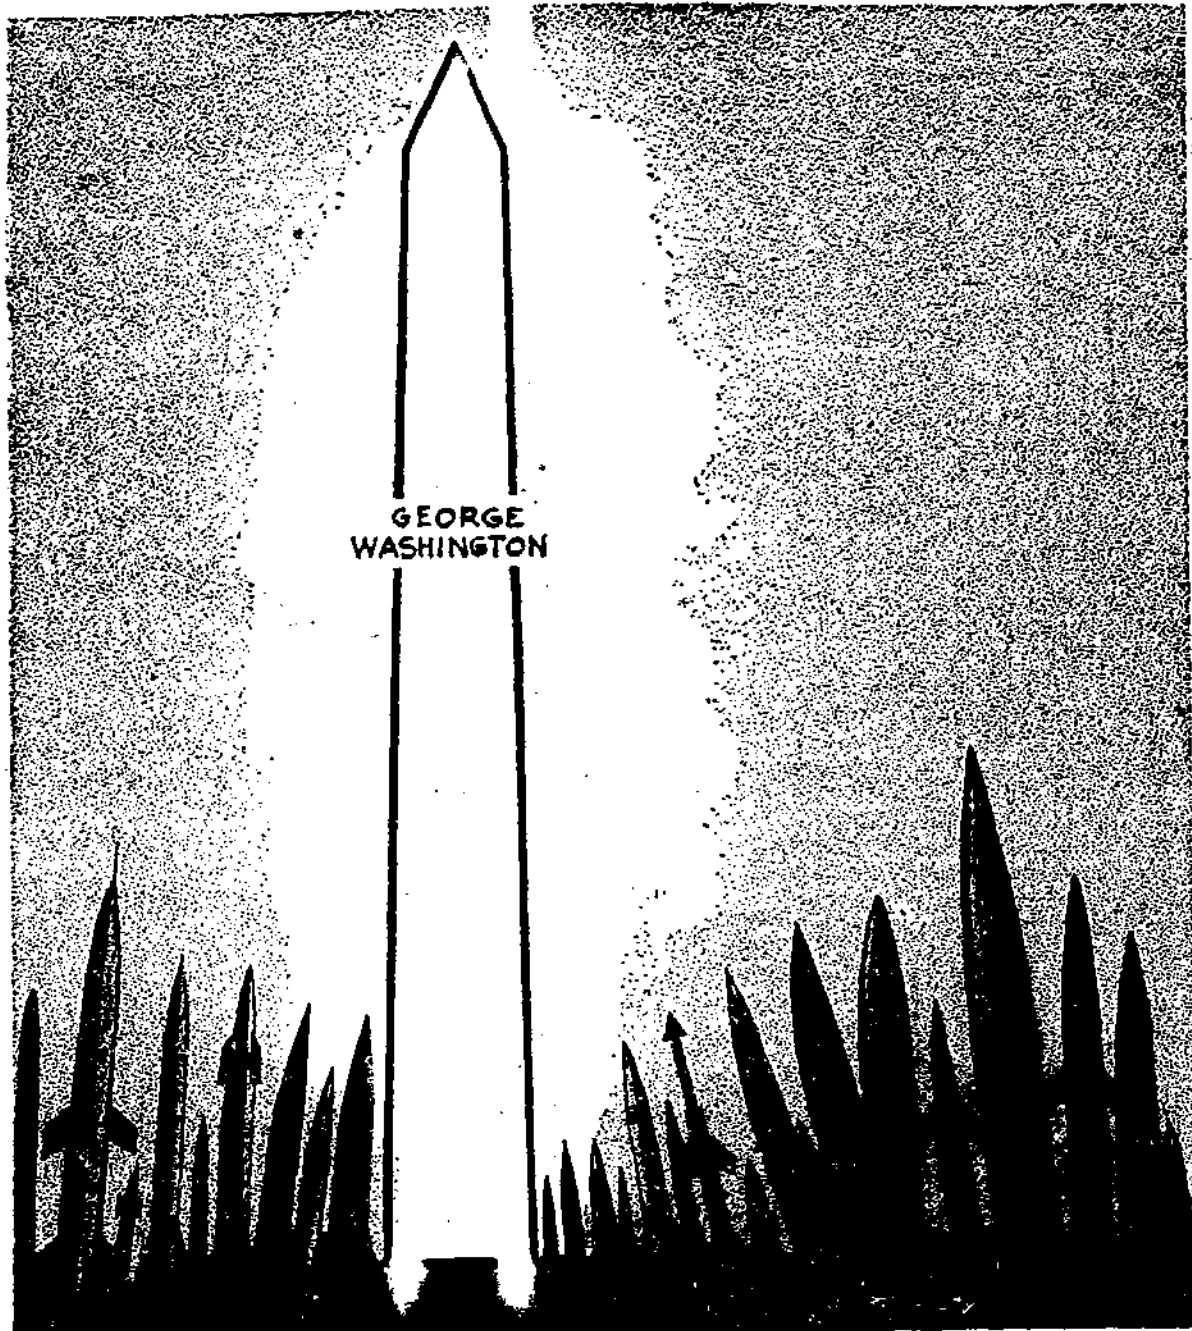

WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's just a simple question in philosophy right now—What is force? But in a few months it may be the heart of a crisis over West Berlin.
This is a brief version of the problem:
Not only is East Germany Communist-run, under the thumb of the Soviet Union, but so is the Eastern Zone of Berlin which is the capital of the East German government. The Soviets have troops there. Berlin is 100 miles inside East Germany.
But the 2,200,000 civilians in West Berlin consider themselves citizens of West Germany whose capital is in Bonn. West Berlin is a Western showpiece. Its high prosperity is a glaring contrast to the drabness of East Berlin.
Since World War II days, through agreements with the Soviet Union, the Western Allies have had troops in West Berlin. They are supplied from West Germany—by plane, rail and road—through or over 110 miles of East Germany.
But since last November the Soviet Union has made a number of demands and proposals which compel the West to face or avert a crisis. The Soviets in effect set a deadline around May 27.

They call for making West Berlin a free city; they want Western military forces withdrawn; they want a settlement of uniting the two Germanys; they talk of making a separate peace settlement with East Germany.
And they talk of turning over to the East German government full control of what can enter East Germany. To put it another way, the East German Communists would be free to refuse to let the Allies send military supplies to West Berlin.
What would happen if they did that? A lot of things could happen. For one: The Allies can hardly abandon the West Berliners whose "free zone" would become a small island completely surrounded in the sea of Communist East Germany.
The Allies at this point apparently don't know what to expect. They decided to try talking before the May 27 deadline. They proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France have a foreign ministers conference.
This proposal had hardly reached the Kremlin when Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev threw another log on the fire Tuesday.

Still Our Greatest Strength

Here and There

George Washington spent his 46th and probably bleakest birthday in the snow-covered fields of Valley Forge, in this state. Today, as many know, Valley Forge is a pleasant state park, where snow creates a serene setting for the replicas of log huts that housed Washington's army, the National Geographic says. But on February 22, 1778, the snow was stained with the bloody footprints of soldiers who were suffering incredible privation in bitter cold. The men had scant, ragged clothing and few blankets. They slept on damp earth floors in their huts. Food was meager. Smallpox and dysentery spread through the camp. A picture of this winter of suffering emerges from original Washington papers in the "Library of Congress. The ink on the letters is now a dim brown, but the story told in the spidery, sometimes illegible, handwriting has not faded. Washington's army of 11,000 men arrived in Valley Forge on December 19, 1777, after a 19-mile march from the outskirts of Philadelphia. In a letter to Lafayette 12 days later, Washington was optimistic in spite of the dismal prospect before him: "I have no doubt but that every thing happens for the best; that we shall triumph over all our misfortunes, and shall, in the end, be ultimately happy; when, My Dear Marquis, if you will give me your company in Virginia, we will laugh at our past difficulties and the folly of others." As the winter wore on, Washington's optimism changed to worry, but never despair. A thread of constant concern for his men runs through his letters. On February 19, 1778, he wrote to Patrick Henry for help in getting supplies: "... for several days past, we have experienced little less than a famine in camp." In another letter, he said, "The distress of this Army for want of provisions is perhaps beyond anything you can conceive." On his 46th birthday, Washington issued a general order requiring that the sick be well-supplied with rice or "if rice cannot be had, Indian meal..." Many of the letters attempt to get more clothing for the soldiers. On one occasion, Washington wrote, "We have... this day... no less than 2,873 men in camp unfit for duty because they are barefooted and otherwise naked..." Numbers... are still obliged to sit all night by fires..." Washington tells of seeing a man wrapped in only a thin blanket run from one hut to another. Soldiers who left their quarters for duty borrowed clothes from others who remained inside. One soldier was court-martialed for threatening to desert just as soon as he got shoes. In a letter urging Brigadier General John Glover not to resign, Washington commented, "The spirit of resigning, which is now become almost epidemic, is truly painful and alarming." Washington feared a "general mutiny and dispersion." Although 3,000 men died during the winter, the army did not disintegrate. Under the Prussian training of Baron von Steuben, it was molded into a well-disciplined fighting force that marched away from Valley Forge on June, 1778, and went on to eventual victory.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the January issue of Service, a magazine published by Cities Service Co. for its employees and customers, features a six-page article written by Robert B. Keane on "A Century of Oil." Starting with the drilling of the first oil well at Titusville nearly 100 years ago, the article delves into the early days of production, exploration for oil, the first refineries, transportation of petroleum and oil research. Discussed are the various uses of oil for transportation, industry, the farm, the home and national defense. A considerable amount of space was devoted to the early beginnings of the oil industry in Titusville. The article was illustrated with a number of sketches, the first of which depicted someone telling (Turn to Page Seven)

Daily Lenten Meditations

From the Upper Room

Read Acts 5:25-32.
"We must obey God rather than men." (Acts 5:29.)
A father overheard the youngest son talking to the eldest son of the family. "When you tell me to do something, I may do it," the lad said, "but I don't have to. However, when father tells me to do something I must do it."
In drawing an analogy, the elder brother may be likened to men. The father in the story may be likened to God. The elder brother has limited authority. The father has the wisdom of years, of education, and experiences behind his words. His authority is established and recognized.
Let us be aware of the margin of error and the limited authority in the make-up of man. Too often we make him our authority and listen to him when we should be acknowledging God's authority and listening to Him. We are wise to discern where the best for us lies, where our obedience belongs.

PRAYER

O Father God, in whose hands our world rests, help us to recognize and obey Thy authority above that of any other being. This day may our watchword be: We must obey Thee rather than men. Strengthen us in obedience to Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

We must obey the whispers of God rather than the shouts of men. Paul K. McAfee (Alabama).

NEW YORK (AP)—A drop in earnings in 1958 is being reported today by two out of three American corporations. But in the majority of cases the decline was reversed or trimmed substantially in the final months of the year.
The current first quarter of 1959 seems sure to stack up not a bad gains as compared to a year ago when the recession's onslaught on profits was at its worst.
So far 770 corporations have reported on net income after taxes in 1958. Combined, their earnings are 14.4 per cent lower than in 1957.
Declines are showing by 430. There are 30 reporting a net loss in 1958, against 23 in 1957.
Combined the 770 report profits of $9,174,278,000, compared with $10,730,080,000 made by the same companies in 1957.
This is only a sampling of all corporate profits. When final figures are in a couple months hence, total U. S. corporate profits are predicted to be around 36 billion dollars.
It was an up and down year for profits. In the first three months of 1958 they were running at an annual rate of less than 32 billion dollars. In the final three months of the year the pace had quickened to an estimated 45 billion annual rate.

Profits are expected to rise still further as 1959 progresses.
The swift recovery of profits since the recession is expected to play a major role in labor negotiations in coming months, as union leaders seek a larger share of gross earnings for their members.
The millions who own corporate stock will watch the profit trend closely too. Cash dividends paid out in 1958 came to about 12 billion dollars, a drop of some 400 million dollars from the record set in 1957. Reviving profits can reverse that trend.
Sharpest slides in profits in 1958 are reported by these industries: rail equipment, autos and suppliers, machinery and tools, steel and iron, coal, aircraft and suppliers, mining and metal working, and oil and its suppliers.
Best increases over 1957 are reported by: airlines, office equipment, farm equipment, communications, utilities and tobacco companies. As a group manufacturers of electrical equipment and appliances report the two years pretty much of a stand-off.

X-RAY TECHNIQUES

X-Rays pass through soft tissues but not hard structures such as bone. As a result, the skeleton casts a shadow on the film in much the same way as a tree or any other solid object casts a shadow when struck by the sun's rays.
Our pioneer roentgenologists must have been disappointed when the stomach, intestines, gall bladder, and other abdominal organs failed to show up under X-rays. They soon discovered, however, that an outline of the organ could be obtained on the film when these organs were filled with an opaque substance that casts a shadow.

In current use are 19 opaque substances in more than 60 separate forms. Some are injected and others are swallowed. Barium sulfate is the oldest and best known. It is swallowed when the stomach and small intestine are to be studied; and given as an enema to outline the large intestine and rectum. Barium fills every nook and cranny of the stomach and, by taking films from various angles, a detailed outline is obtained.

When peptic ulcer exists, for example, barium enters the crater and shows up as a filling defect in the wall. It takes time for barium to be propelled along the passageway. Roentgenologists watch the material carefully as it travels from one part of the area to another, looking for abnormalities including tumors, polyps, pockets, or narrowed or obstructed areas.

A new water-soluble preparation, Gastrografin, is more liquid than barium and is used when obstruction is suspected. It passes through narrowed openings that otherwise would be plugged with barium.

Most of the other organs are visualized with products containing iodine. They reach their destination via the blood stream and are injected hypodermically or taken orally. These agents are used to fill the gall bladder and to visualize the renal structures, including the kidneys. They are injected into blood vessels to determine whether obstruction exists, and into the spinal canal for evidence of a protruding disk.

TOMORROW: Hospitalization for children.

INFECTION WITHOUT FEVER

J. F. writes: I had acute bronchitis for seven weeks but my temperature never rose. I'm not worried but curious, as I thought infection always causes fever.

REPLY

Many infections are not severe enough to produce fever. Apparently there was no absorption of toxins and other by-products of inflammation in your case.

PSYCHOSOMATICS

G. F. writes: How do the emotions affect the body?

REPLY

You must be a stoic or a cold potato if you don't know this answer. The skin flushes or pales, the individual feels hot under the collar, the pulse races, and the body muscles become tense or tremulous. Many internal changes occur, such as churning of the stomach, increased gastric secretions, rise in blood pressure, overactivity of the kidneys, and increased pumping of adrenalin into the blood stream.

NIGHT CRAMPING

J. Z. writes: Are leg cramps at night in a 30 year old man due to poor circulation?

REPLY

Yes, but physical stress or exertion is a better possibility. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on cramping of the extremities.

BLOOD STUDY

C. T. writes: Is a blood count of 100 considered dangerous?

REPLY

One hundred is perfect, if you refer to the percentage of hemoglobin (coloring matter).

Ike's Farm Headache Shows Signs of Getting Chronic

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—To get a line on what's happening in congressional haggling so far this year, it may be useful to recall a parallel situation on farm legislation last year.

President Eisenhower sent a farm message to Congress in January 1958, recommending lower, flexible price supports.

To show him who was boss around here, Congress passed a bill freezing all price supports. The President promptly vetoed it and that was the last heard of that idea.

The House Agriculture Committee then cooked up what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson called a "legislative monstrosity." It was a bill so bad that even the House couldn't stomach it. They killed it in June.

Finally, in August, Congress passed a farm bill reducing corn price supports on the 1959 crop. Rice and cotton supports were set for a cut in 1962. This didn't go whole hog with the Eisenhower-Benson plan, but it was their victory.

This year the President and secretary have just made a similar pitch to Congress. One thing they ask for specifically is an end to incentives for overproduction of wheat by basing support prices on market averages instead of on the old fixed parity principle.

DEMOCRATIC HOUSE MEMBERS promptly told the secretary they would not accept the administration program.

This is in line with Democratic reaction to other administration proposals on housing, airport construction, urban renewal, aid to depressed areas and aid to education.

The Democrats' position is that they won the election, they control the majorities, they'll dictate programs.

But this Democratic position is weakening already. Stung by administration charges of reckless spending, the Senate Democrats cut their airport and housing bills by 100 to 150 million dollars. The Eisenhower administration welcomes these cuts but says they are not big enough in the interests of economy, what's needed by the country or by good government.

IF PRESIDENT EISENHOWER had item veto on appropriation bills—which he has repeatedly requested but which Congress has consistently refused—excessive spending might be controlled. Lacking that power, all the President can do is hold out the threat of vetoing entire bills.

The Democratic reply that if the President resorts to this, they will balance his budget for him by cutting off his foreign aid program, is taken by Republicans as pretty small politics. As the President told his last press conference, that would be "statesmanship of a very low order." This puts it as politely as possible. The political probabilities are that in the next few months a lot of these extreme positions on both sides will be whittled down to better shape.

SECRETARY BENSON POINTS out that it does not make sense to go on paying high price supports on wheat. The prospect is that at present price support levels, the U.S. government will own 1 1/2 billion bushels of surplus wheat—a full year's extra supply—by July 1, 1960. It will have cost the taxpayers 3 1/2 billion dollars. Secretary Benson has given the Congress two possible courses of action to eliminate this continued extravagance and political irresponsibility. One is to relax controls and let a free market determine price. The other is to tighten loopholes in existing controls.

Men's Work Bees To Beautify St. Francis

The recently-completed St. Francis of Assisi church in Youngsville has been undergoing extensive painting through work bees of the Bishop's Men of that parish.

These hard-working volunteers have been taking shifts to complete the project before arrival of new pews, working under the direction of Ronald Wood, Raymond Osborn, Maxwell Rhodes and Richard McCarthy.

Ceiling beams and walls are to be painted a very attractive warm gray, and the front wall of the sanctuary will be a light gold. The parish house and other rooms of the church are also receiving attention from this group.

The Bishop's Men are to be highly commended for devoting so much of their free time to this work. Many of them have been on hand daily and, with this kind of interest, St. Francis will surely continue to grow.

Parish services are announced as follows: Sunday—7:00 a. m., Holy Eucharist; 10:30, Morning Prayer, sermon and church school; 5:30, Evening Prayer. Services of Holy Eucharist will be held at 9:00 a. m. Monday; 7:00 a. m. Tuesday; 10:00 a. m. Wednesday; 12:00 noon, Thursday; 8:00 a. m. Friday; and 11:00 a. m. Saturday. At 7:00 p. m. Thursday, the Lenten service and address will be followed by a fellowship hour in the parish house.

At St. Luke's in Kinzua, there will be Holy Eucharist and sermon at 8:30 a. m. Sunday; church school at 10:00; Lenten service and address at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

LACY PTA

The February meeting of Lacy PTA was in charge of Richard Scallise, president, with routine reports given, and devotions led by Mrs. Donald McCurdy. Fathers' Night was observed, with a good turnout of fathers.

The finance committee had brooms for sale before and after the meeting. In place of the scheduled speaker, Edmund Farnowski, of Warren Jaycees, showed a film and gave a very informative talk on Jaycee projects and purposes.

Mrs. Barkley's third grade won the room award for the most fathers and Miss O'Neill's room for the most parents. Donald McCurdy and his committee served refreshments.

Post and Auxiliary Event

R. F. CUSICK, JR.

MRS. A. C. DILLE

Guests of honor for the annual Washington Birthday Party of Chief Complanter Post 135, American Legion, and its Auxiliary, scheduled at the Post Home Saturday evening, will be Mrs. C. Austin Dille of Pittsburgh, and Regis F. Cusick, Jr., of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Cusick is currently serving the Department of Pennsylvania, American Legion, as western vice commander. He is a World War II Navy veteran, who served in the Pacific theater. Since 1945 he has been a member of Post Black Post 558 of Pittsburgh, and has served various offices and committees of that Post, becoming commander in 1951.

In 1956 he served as commander of the 34th District and was elected western vice commander at the 1958 department convention in Philadelphia. Mr. Cusick is a member of the national transportation committee and national American Legion Press Association. He organized and founded the American Legion Pennsylvania Press Association, served as secretary, treasurer and, last year, as its president.

Mr. and Mrs. Cusick reside with their two sons and two daughters at 220 Winston street, Pittsburgh.

Resident of Russell Wins Contest Check

RUSSELL—Mrs. Charles Alpaugh, who recently entered a Fluffo advertising contest, received a check this week for $1,000, as one of the winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Perrigo spent Sunday with the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Albaugh and family in South Dayton, celebrating the birthday of the hosts.

Russell firemen were called to the home of William A. Lyon on Stanton Hill late Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a chimney fire.

Mrs. Russell Way entertained Friendship Club Tuesday evening with 11 members present. Lunch included a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Scott Phillips in honor of Mrs. Maynard Dexter's birthday, and she also received a gift. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ralph Baker February 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson and son attended a birthday party Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Paul North. The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Shannon in Jamestown.

DESSERT-LUNCHEON CLUB PLANS SHOW

Betty Lee is cooperating with the YWCA Dessert-Luncheon Club in presenting a "Preview of Easter Hats" for the regular meeting on February 27, with several of the club members as models.

Dessert will be served at 1:15 p. m. in the activities building by the following committee: Mrs. Everett Borg, Mrs. Carl Whipple, Mrs. Karl Timm, Mrs. Howard Van Ord, Mrs. Warren Rohlin and Mrs. Ned Lauffer.

Reservations may be made with them or at the "Y" office. Any members of the YV are welcome to attend, but reservations are requested, and it is hoped the entire club will be present to select its Easter bonnet.

QUARTERLY MEET AT CALVARY BAPTIST

Annual election of officers was a feature of this week's quarterly business meeting of Calvary Baptist parish. Routine reports were heard and several timely recommendations acted upon.

The Sunday school board met Tuesday evening with the Don Wagners, following an evening of visitation. Plans were made to study carefully a change of curriculum and adopt a six-week Spring Loyalty Program. Routine reports of departments were heard and discussed; devotions were presented by the general superintendent, Mrs. Carl Elmquist, and the session closed with refreshments served by the hostess.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COMMITTEE MEETS

A committee on curriculum and visual aids for weekday religious education instruction met Wednesday afternoon to discuss the possibility of uniform graded courses for all classes in the fall. Another meeting of the group, which is composed of pastor and one lay-leader of each participating church, will be held next Wednesday at 3:00 p. m. at First Baptist church.

WEEK OF PRAYER

Mrs. David Rice will preside at the final Week of Prayer meeting in the sanctuary of First Lutheran church tonight at 7:30. Joan Rettler will be the pianist and Mike Rice and Jim Smith will usher.

The following members of United Lutheran Church Women will participate in the meditations and prayers: Mrs. James Frantz, Mrs. Willis Tickner, Mrs. James Senger, Mrs. Ray Seastead, Mrs. Chester Hansen, Mrs. Peale Huchabone and Hazel Kays. Theme will be "India", and all members of the congregation are urged to be present.

LADY EAGLES PLAN DINNER

At the regular meeting of Lady Eagles, final plans were made for the sauerkraut dinner to be held in the social rooms Sunday, with serving to begin at 1:00 p. m. A small donation will be asked, and cherry pie will be served at an extra charge. Proceeds will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, and a good attendance is urged. Mrs. Jean Cassell is chairman, and women with initials beginning with M, N, O, P, R, S are on committee. Any member who wishes may donate a cherry pie.

Mrs. Sena Forsgren won the attendance award, but she was absent.

Erie Attorney to Address Meeting Of Republicans

Warren County Council of Republican Women will hold its initial meeting for '59 Thursday evening, February 26 at 7:30 in the small court room, Warren County Court House.

In addition to council members, an "open house" is planned that all registered Republican women in the county interested in what's going on in politics, may attend and feel welcome.

Mrs. Paul Fago, program chairman, has secured a fine speaker for the first gathering, Attorney William C. Sennett of Erie, who is Young Republican district administrator for a six county area including Warren county. Mr. Sennett was recently appointed to the post by Thomas McIntosh, Young Republican of Pennsylvania chairman, who accompanied Arthur McGonigle on the occasion of the grand picnic held in Youngsville last summer.

Mr. Sennett has an interesting and factual program to discuss and should appeal as a speaker to GOP supporters regardless of age.

A special feature of the evening includes a blanket invitation to all young Republicans in the area, men and women, to join the Council at 8:30 p. m. on the 26th, and hear Attorney Sennett's talk. All drop-ins will be duly refreshed with coffee and cookies.

It is suggested to Council members that an effort be made to contact interested Republican women in respective neighborhoods and personally ask them to accompany you to this most important session. There are many problems to be faced including the need for accelerated work in securing registrations prior to the May 19 primary election.

Throughout the nation, figures show that registered women voters outnumber the men, thus proving that the Warren County Council of Republican Women can carry tremendous weight in any election year.

In addition to ship rescue readiness, the U. S. Coast Guard also operates lighthouses, buoys, loran stations and ice breakers to keep sea lanes safe for navigation.

Eternal Question: How Can Husbands Behave That Way?

Any married woman sometimes wonders—Why a man is often too tired to play bridge with another couple but rarely too tired to play poker with the boys.

How a man can become so attached to an old hat, when nothing looks less appealing to a woman than one of her own old hats.

Why a house in which a man has been batching it for a week looks as if nobody had lived in it for at least a year.

How a man can tell at a glance the make and model of any car he sees on the road, but when he goes into a furniture store can't tell French provincial from American colonial.

Why a man can so easily overlook a pretty woman's lack of brains, yet be so annoyed by a plain woman's mistakes.

Why a married man can't drive a nail without his wife at his side to fetch and carry for him.

Why a man heeds so little of what his wife tells him.

Why the scrapes a man's son gets into aren't funny at all, while the scrapes he got into as a boy are so hilarious.

Why a man expects his wife to notice when he gets a haircut even though he makes no comment about what a visit to the beauty salon does to her.

Why a man thinks he has been helpful when he tells his wife not to "go to a lot of trouble" when they are having guests to dinner.

Why a man never seems terribly surprised by the gossip his wife tells him.

How a man can say with a straight face that it's too much trouble to go out to dinner—when his wife will have to cook the meal and do the dishes if they eat at home.

Knit News From Paris

The French touch with sweaters is demonstrated in this skirt and sweater team designed by Hubert de Givenchy. Pullover is worn in a coarse knit with huge cape collar and ribbed bodice. Rounded skirt is cut with buttoned front panel.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Russell Department Has Monthly Session

RUSSELL—President Elmer Roberts conducted the monthly meeting of Russell Volunteer Fire Department, with 29 members answering roll call. Chief John Stanton reported three fires during the month: A barn on the Sherman Hansen farm between Russell and Akely; a barn on the Howard Thompson farm near Lander, and a chimney fire at the William Lyon home on Stanton Hill.

The ambulance committee reported 12 calls during the month. Any delinquent members, or any others desiring to join, may make payments at the Crossroads Restaurant, Fox Garage, Hale's Grocery in Akely. A tentative budget is being worked out by the committee.

It was reported No Parking signs have arrived and will be erected by the fire hall. Richard Enos was appointed to see about having the pool table in the social room refinished; Roy Martin reported he had made repairs to some of the chairs for the hall.

To conclude, refreshments were served by Clarence Brewster, Joe Tarr and Paul Lindell.

The Mature Parent

Broken—or Breaking—Homes Need Compassion Most

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

In our country we have somehow developed a very odd notion—the idea that we can change people's feelings by giving them things. We think we can assuage a child's anger by giving him ice cream. We think big alimony can mend a broken home. We think we can erase slums by pulling them down and building housing projects. We think we can make foreign countries admire us by paying their bills.

We are mistaken. The child stays angry. The alimony just buys an expensive boarding school. The shiny new housing projects start smelling like the old slums and the foreign countries just sneer harder at us as "materialist dollar imperialists."

This inborn faith in the giving of things is the cause of our failure to solve juvenile crime.

So maybe we'd better start knowing what we're up to when we rush into delinquent neighborhoods with new playground equipment, settlement house socials and little uplift programs on parent education.

It's time we know we are saying: "See how generous we are? Now please behave, love us—and stop bothering us with these feelings of yours that we find so inconvenient and ungrateful."

Oh yes, that's what the bribes are all about. Well, people who bribe are regarded as fools by the people who take the bribes.

In Hawaii, they have accepted this truth. So, instead of giving things to families with violent and ungrateful feelings, they are giving them a chance to explode the feelings harmlessly.

Parents and children are reducing the steam of their need to protest through talk, tears and confession of fears and shame to the social workers who staff Honolulu's "Operation Help" instead of through lawbreaking action.

Say Honolulu officials: "Our primary goal is to move into family situations at the points of initial crisis—and get at the facts which are causing the friction."

They add: "Few of the families need financial help." Please mark that statement.

Because our battling families don't need money, either. What they need is what the Hawaiians are getting—people to help them understand their frightening feelings. What they need is not things but attention and respect.

That is the idea behind "Operation Help."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers met astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

Guards More Than Preface In Autobiography of U. S.

National Guard descendants of Revolutionary militia today carry battle streamers embroidered with the names of the campaigns of 1776-1780: Virginia, Long Island, Trenton, New York, Princeton, Brandywine, Germantown, Mammouth, South Carolina, Saratoga, Connecticut, Boston...

They helped win the independence today's Guard is pledged to defend.

As the nation grew the outward appearance of the Guard changed. These changes will be available for public inspection when National Guard units observe their annual Muster Day with open house at their respective Armories Saturday. A full program has been arranged for Warren area residents when they visit the local Armory on Liberty street tomorrow.

Drills for members of Company I will begin at 8:30, concluding at 11:30 followed by "chow" until 1 p. m. From 1 until 5:30 the public may inspect the Armory and view various equipment and weapons display.

Not only is the background of National Guard interesting and intriguing, but it is a keystone in the freedom we enjoy today and a chapter in the book of history of the colonies' great struggle for freedom, blooming into the massive country it is today. National Guard is also a shelter in the storm—tornado, hurricane, cyclone, floods and disasters.

Army National Guard is the oldest military establishment in United States, older than the nation itself. Two units, 182nd Infantry Regiment and 101st Engineer Battalion of Massachusetts National Guard, were organized in 1636. Since that time, the Guard has fought in every major conflict in which U. S. has been engaged.

National Guard of U. S. is the only reserve component in United States with a dual Federal-State mission. As a part of the reserve of the Army, Army National Guard is organized trained and equipped so that it will be available in times of national emergency or war. As units of the State, Guard may be called upon for State duty by governor.

There are approximately 400,700 officers and men in the Army National Guard throughout continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico

Penelec Presents Promotional Program

Pennsylvania Electric Company presented its 1959 Sales Program to Warren area appliance dealers and electrical contractors at the Penn Laurel Motel, Tuesday evening, and announced its participation in a $2½ million promotional campaign to be featured on national TV schedules and in leading national magazines. The meeting was conducted by R. L.

Barney, Warren district residential sales representative and Frank Seceniqua, Northern Division sales supervisor, who stated that promotion in the fast growing residential and commercial heating field would continue to receive strong emphasis. Mr. Barney announced that there are nearly 160 homes in the Northern Division being heated electrically.

From Paris: New Look for Knits

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Knit fabrics with the look of fur and knit fabrics with a sleek, lustrous, luxurious look are highlighted in a collection of sweaters and separates shown here by Hubert de Givenchy.

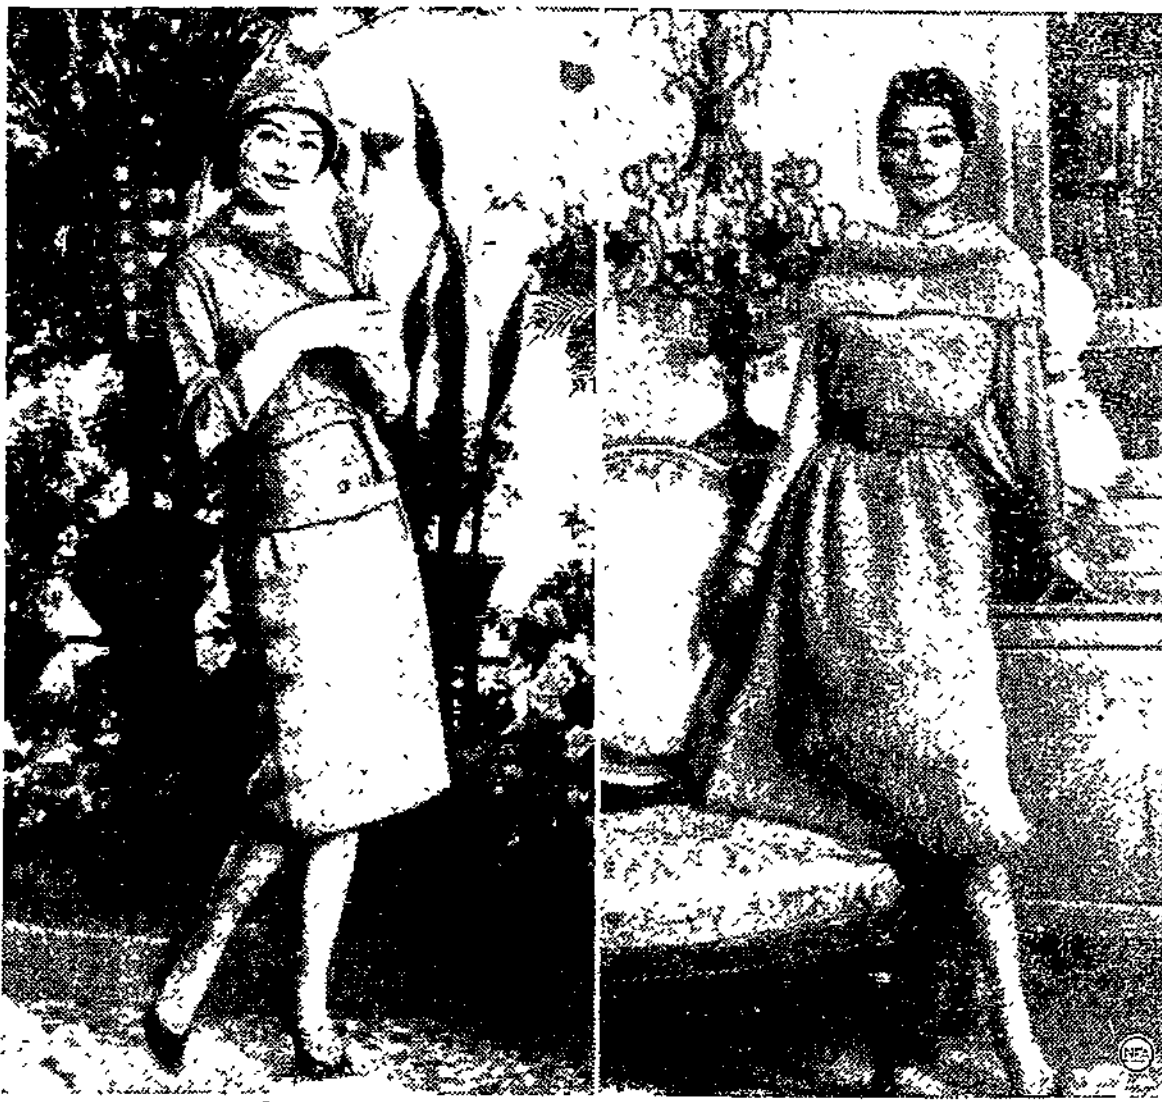

Sometimes, in fact, he uses them in combination. Givenchy has designed these ensembles for everything from morning wear to dinner at home.

In the United States, his knit fashions will be available to American women since he has done this particular collection for Talbot of New York.

For morning wear, sweaters offer new, shorter length and interesting detailing. Cardigans that stop just short of the waist are shown in double-breasted styles. They're worn with skirts that bell from a small waistline.

The high-waisted look appears (left) in a double-breasted cardigan in royal blue orlon. It's worn over a brushed ombre plaid skirt in orlon, wool and mohair with the blues picking up the color of the sweater.

For afternoon, Givenchy does a beige costume blending three different knit textures of orlon. A huge collar of shaggy knit covers the shoulders of a pull-over done in smooth yarn. The same shaggy knit makes a fluffy border around the skirt which is a reverse coarse-knit side of the shaggy texture.

World Briefs

BRUSSELS (AP)—Mine owners and union chiefs gathered in Brussels today to open negotiations for settlement of the coal strike which has idled 100,000 workers. The miners are out in support of 6,500 of their mates threatened with loss of their jobs by government plans to shut down antiquated coal mines.

LONDON (AP)—Britain will increase air force funds by $66,500,000 next year, but the number of men in the Royal Air Force will be cut. Personnel will be cut by 23,000 from last year's figure of 203,000.

MANILA (AP)—City Auditor Jose Erestandin is urging officials of the Manila zoo to rename two kangaroos they're being given by the Australian government. Adam and Eve are the animals' name. "Sacriligious," Erestandin complained.

BUTLEIGH, England (AP)—Laurence Housman, prolific British poet, author and artist, died today. He was 93.

Housman's first published work was "The Writings of William Blake" in 1893 and his last "Old Testament Plays" in 1951—a productive span of 58 years.

PARIS (AP)—Opposition political leader Jacques Opengault has been arrested in Brazzaville, capital of the Congo, following politico-tribal riots in which 72 Africans were killed.

Opengault was charged with inciting to sedition, rebellion and pillage.

Beaver County Boro Has a $150,000 Blaze

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP)—A fire in near zero temperatures early today destroyed a long frame building containing stores and apartments and damaged two other buildings in the small Beaver County borough of South Heights.

Members of two families were forced to flee into bitter, one-above-zero cold, but no one was reported injured.

Firemen from five volunteer companies were coated with ice and the area took on a coat of white splendor as they fought the blaze until dawn. South Heights is about 20 miles north west of Pittsburgh and directly across the Ohio River from Ambridge.

Fire Chief Michael Durnak of South Heights tentatively estimated damages at $150,000.

FIRST DEGREE MURDER GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Emery F. Ciampini, 45, of Youngwood, has been convicted of first degree murder in the fatal shooting last Oct. 19 of Mrs. Eileen Bryant, 45, of near New Stanton. A Westmoreland County jury recommended life imprisonment for Ciampini in handing down the verdict Thursday. But sentencing was delayed pending a possible motion for a new trial.

Marlow Looks At the News

(From Page Four)

Soviet Union might let the East Germans refuse to permit passage of military supplies to West Berlin, he said:

"Any violation of the German Democratic Republic's sovereignty will be fittingly rebuffed, regardless of how the violation is made: by water, ground or air."

Then Khrushchev suggested that if the Allies tried to shoot their way through East Germany to West Berlin it would mean war.

"Everyone realizes that if anyone starts shooting that would mean the beginning of war," he said.

President Eisenhower, asked about the Khrushchev comments at his Wednesday news conference, replied, "We are not saying that we are going to shoot our way into Berlin."

He said if the Western powers were prevented from carrying out their obligations to the people of West Berlin "it will be somebody else using force."

He said Khrushchev "must be talking about shooting to prevent us from doing our duty. After all that is what is going to happen, if it happens."

That brings back the question which may have to be settled on the East German frontier. What is force?

Is it force if the United States—arguing it has a right and duty to ship supplies to West Berlin and has agreements with the Soviets to let the supplies through—insists on going through? Is that force?

The West would argue No. But the Soviets, who now claim the old agreements are outdated, would insist any attempt by the Allies to send military supplies through East Germany against the East German government's will is force.

Perhaps this will happen, if the situation gets that far. The first time the East Germans refuse to let Allied supplies through, the West—instead of seeking a showdown there and then—may stop short of trying to ram through and take the case to the United Nations, at least for discussion.

Here and There

Colonel Drake, "Your fortune's made, Colonel. It's oil," as Mr. Drake approached his well that day in August of 1859. At the top of three pages was what appeared to be a stamp bearing the dates 1859 and 1959 and a picture of the Drake Well. At the left of the stamp were the words, "Born in Freedom" and at the right, "Working for Progress." The article not only discusses the past 100 years of oil but it also looks into the future, as well. "More than most industries, petroleum must keep an eye on the future," the author says. "Finding and producing oil cannot be accomplished at a moment's notice. Years may intervene between a decision to explore a selected area and the day when oil flows from the test well, or the test is abandoned as a dry hole."

"This is not because the petroleum industry is laggard. Drilling for oil is a costly and complicated business. Before it is undertaken, the prospective area must be carefully charted by the geologists and geophysicists. Titles to the land must be searched with care and leases negotiated, a task which has, in some instances, required many months to accomplish. Drilling itself is time-consuming. Cities Service is one of a number of oil companies to recognize Titusville and the birth of the oil industry thus far during the past few months. Others include the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio and the Arabian American Oil Co.

The future of Warren County, and of every other county throughout the nation, will be in the hands of the boys and girls who are now in school. World changes come about so rapidly, that our young people must learn more than their parents did. We urge students of the area to remain in school, and learn all they can. We urge adults to assume their obligation. Why not build for a "college fund" for your son or daughter at the WARREN BANK AND TRUST COMPANY.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

THE MOUNT OF TEMPTATION

Wednesday is the first day of Lent, the start of the 40-day penitential season that commemorates Christ's fast in the wilderness.

This drawing of Christ praying in a cave is based on a sketch I made on the Mountain of Temptation in the Holy Land, where according to sacred tradition Christ was tempted three times by Satan.

A narrow trail rimming the steep cliffs led up to the cave. There was an awesome view of the Jordan Valley from the mouth of the cave, which dropped away from a high, jagged precipice. In the shadows, a wasp's nest hung from the clammy damp wall. Tracks of man-eating jackals made a frightening pattern on the floor of the cave.

The whole setting, stark and forbidding, brought home the tremendous privations that Christ endured in the wilderness. And yet he found the strength to tell his tempter: "Get thee hence Satan."

First Meeting of Junior Red Cross Interesting One

The following report has been received on the recent meeting of the Junior Red Cross. Delegates to the Junior Red Cross had their first meeting of this year at the Red Cross Headquarters Building, George Frits, chairman of the Junior Red Cross, introduced James Williams, Field Representative in this area, who spoke to the children and their faculty leaders about the aims and the many foreign service projects a Junior Red Cross member can attain. Mr. Williams spoke of the boxes containing such small items as comb, toothbrush, pencil that seem so insignificant to us but to a child in a less fortunate country would be considered a treasure. Mr. Williams stated that the Junior Red Cross was started by Woodrow Wilson in order to give the youth of America a chance to help less fortunate peoples. He also mentioned that this is a world wide organization and even includes Russia.

The delegates attending from the schools were: High School, Miss Saglimbene, Miss Powell, Neil Jensen, Carol Lyn Pasquino; Beatty Jr. Hi, Gail Roak, Dennis Love, Norma Johnson, Patricia Welsh; McClintock, Mrs. Withington, Jeff McGernan, Kathy Wester, Tom Wester, Donna Zaprowski; Seneca St., Miss Bell, Barbara Minnelli, Barbara Kyler; Home St., Mrs. Bannon, Diane Geddes, Kitty Laurich, Jeffrey Kays, Bill Peterson; East St., Bill Hill, Paul Mutzabaugh, Cheryl Murphy, Linda Ruhlman, Peter Lannan, Earl Bosin; Lucy St., Mr. Mong, Barbara Alspaugh; Nancy Bluch, Julianna Hetsi, Dennis Check, Randy Roberts, Billy Brooks; Jefferson St., Mr. DiMino, Pen Fanartiss, Billy Johnson; Richard Marietta Thomas Christie, Vilma Zack, Bill Pasquino, Denny Dodge, Charles Frantz, Laura Lynn Knupp, Patty Dasher, Judy Lundahl, Jo Ann Nuhfer, Judy Morelli.

Mr. Frits expressed his thanks to all the children and told how gratified he was that so many could attend. He stated that he hopes to make the Warren Chapter of the Junior Red Cross an active and worthwhile organization.

Afghanistan is bordered by USSR, Iran and Pakistan.

Pillows Cushion Home's Decoration

Trove of colorful corduroy covers for scatter pillows is a find for this young homemaker. She makes them of plaids, paisley and paisley prints, and jewel-toned solid colors.

A cluster of gaily colored toss pillows added to a simple, basic room has much the same morale-boosting effect as the bright, spring flower corsage added to a good, basic suit.

The pillow, in various sizes and shapes, is becoming a popular accessory for more reasons, too.

Pillows may be used to introduce strong accent colors into an otherwise predominantly neutral room.

Big floor pillows are colorful additions to seating space especially favored by the young in years.

The rise of many variations of the bench-table combination calls for tailoring seat cushions which can be used to convert the table to a bench.

And let's not forget to mention the pillow's virtue as an aid to comfort when tucked under an elbow or behind the head.

pillow patterns, the pre-cut forms and the piece goods counters for make-them-yourself ideas.

Ready-made scatter pillows are everywhere, but many will prefer to sew them at home. It's a project that's not difficult, yields results in a hurry and will bring just the color note you want.

For many of the smaller sizes, remnant pieces of fine fabrics represent a substantial saving in money without sacrifice of quality.

You will want to consider fabric from the standpoint of maintenance, too.

The homemaker with children will be mindful of fabrics that look plushy, but are washable. Cotton taffetas, cotton satins and corduroys are among those that fit the picture.

New corduroy prints in plaids, paisleys, florals or stripes take the same brilliant velvety colors as the solid pinwales.

This spring, there is a gorgeous range of Oriental colors such as Siamese pink, purple, sharp blues and greens.

THE HEART of the pillow is the stuffing. Precut shapes in foam rubber or urethane are ready to be covered; the same materials bought by the yard can be cut to pattern size.

For softer pillows you might use down feathers.

The easiest coverings to make are rectangular or square shaped. Corded piping or welting and boxed sides give a neatly tailored effect.

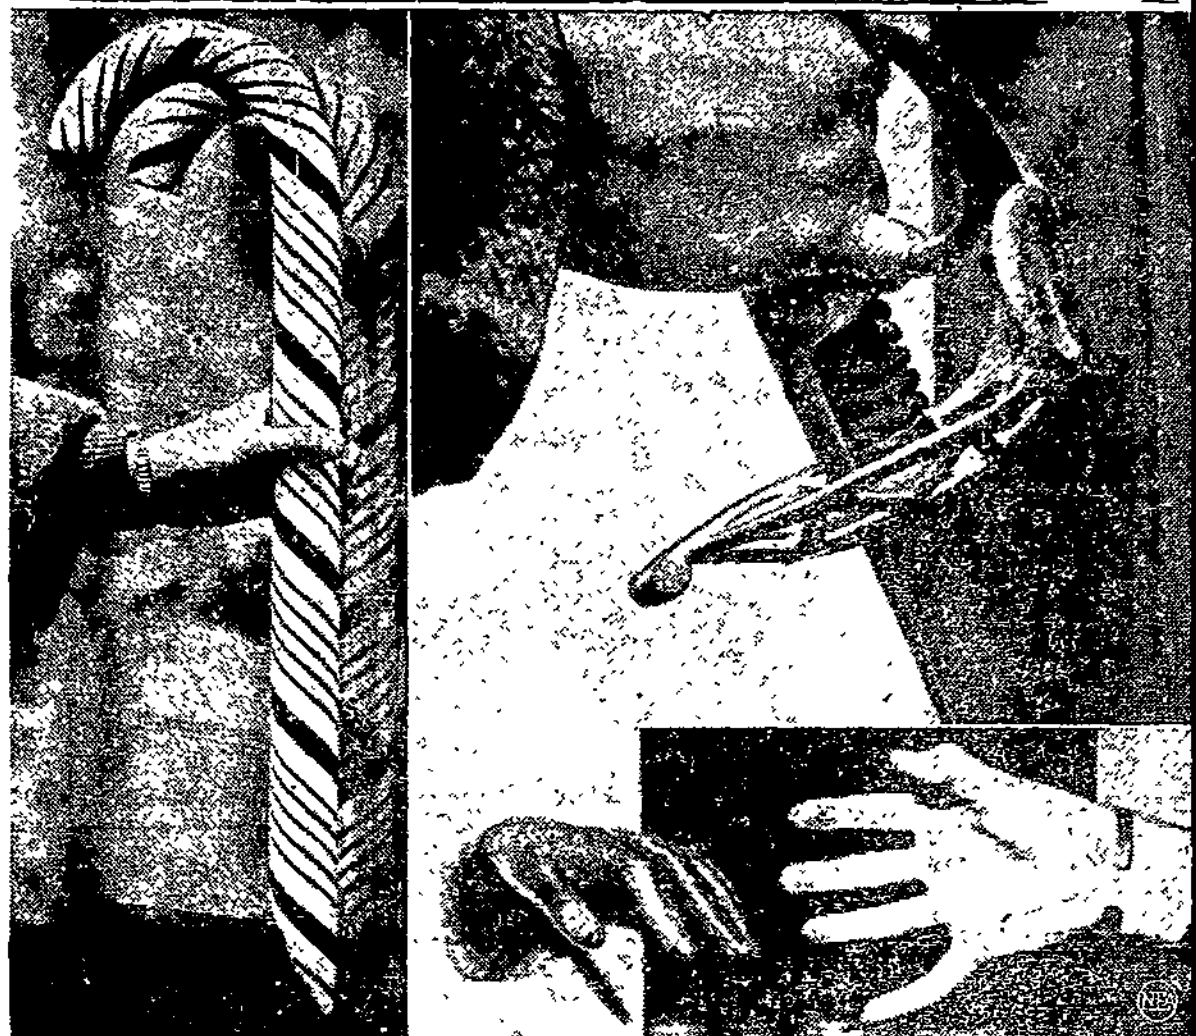

For more feminine effects in bedrooms, substitute a ruffle for the piping.

With many solid-colored corduroys and similar suitable fabrics matched to colors in the prints, combinations of the two offer attractive variations.

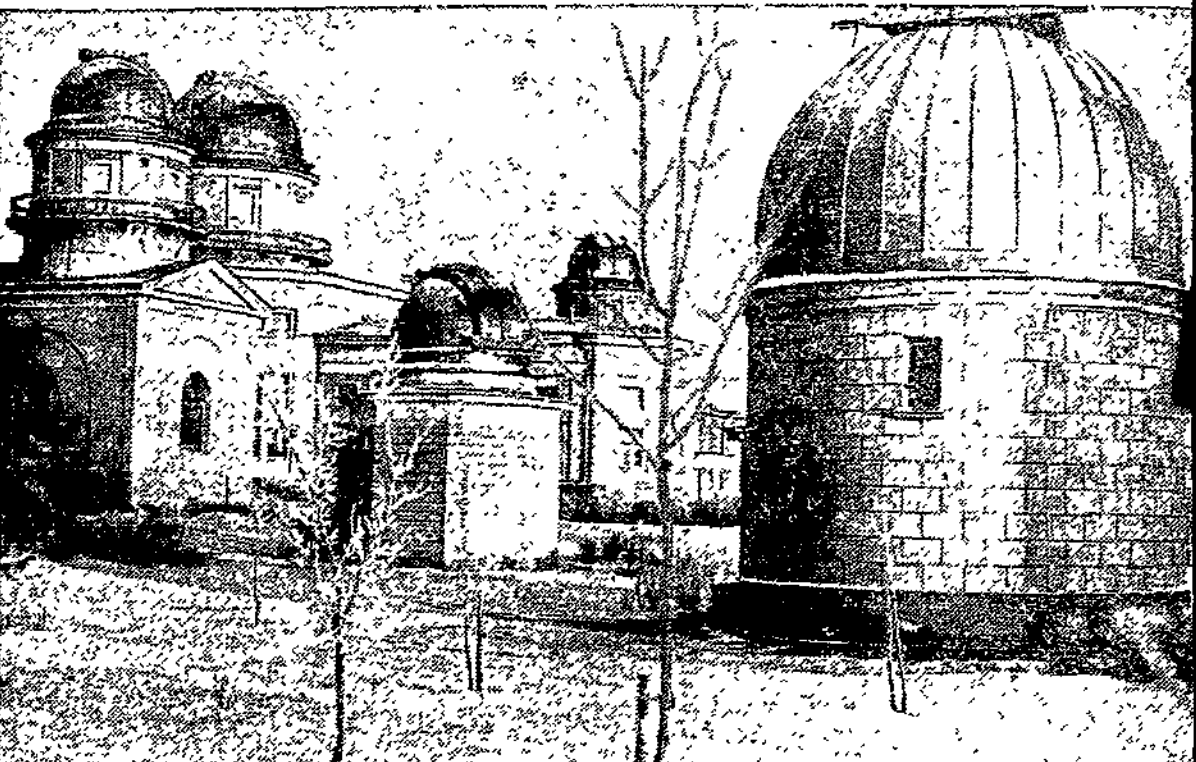

The front and back of a pillow may be print fabric with solid-colored sides.

If you are using small pillows, consider cutting and sewing two covers at the same time.

This gives a quick change of scene when one cover is being cleaned or a seasonal shift of color accents.

CRAZY DOORKNOBS—Not the least among the unusual things a passer-by might spot in New York City are these unusual doorknobs. Peppermint cane, left, is a year-round decoration of a candy store. Gay blades pull a saber "plunged to the hilt" in a restaurant, upper right. A jewelry store featuring macabre pieces welcomes visitors with an outstretched metal hand, lower right.

RUSSIANS AT WORK—These five domes are located at Pulkovo Astronomical Observatory of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences, near Leningrad. Here Russian scientists are compiling star catalogues. A new television device for astronomical research is expected to facilitate examination of the moon, Mars, Jupiter and its satellites in other work at the observatory.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 13: 4, 5—"(Jesus) rose from supper, laid aside his garments, and girded himself with a towel. Then he poured water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel with which he was girded." (RSV)

On the way to the room which had been prepared for the last meal which he would eat with his followers, and even after they had seated themselves at the table, the followers of Jesus Christ argued as to which one of them was the greatest.

The Master took the occasion to remind them that, among His followers, greatness is measured by service. He made the effort to teach His followers that He had called them to a life of service. If they could understand that His life was being lived for others, maybe they would understand that their lives should be lived for others.

You, the followers of Jesus Christ, have opportunities to be of service—your church, your community. If you would be great, be of service to others.

Spring's Big Tote Bag

Few Girls Are Born Beautiful

The teen-age way to beauty lies in good grooming. To achieve it, most teen-agers need to bring order out of chaos. Step in the right direction is (left) keeping beauty tools clean. This girl washes powder puffs and pins them up to dry. Then she makes chart (center) of her beauty schedule, listing all of the things she plans to do daily and weekly. Soapsuds facial (right) is the beginning of a beautiful skin. This smart teen-ager knows that trying to hide bad skin with layers of make-up only makes matters worse. This facial removes excess oil, cleanses pores and whips up circulation. It's one way to a glowing skin. A program like this one can turn an average girl into a pretty one.

Every teen-age girl hopes to become an attractive woman. And right then and there—the minute that desire is born—she must accept the responsibility for her own appearance.

Even if it sounds tiresome and not particularly glamorous, good grooming IS the basic ingredient for beauty. And now is the time to tackle those "beauty killers" such as grubby fingernails, stray locks of hair and stale make-up.

To keep your nails clean, flick a moistened hand brush over a cake of soap and rub it with some firmness under and around the nails.

Make-up and pretty clothes are certainly important factors in beauty, but without personal cleanliness and attention to small details, you'll just look dressed-up, made-up—and messy.

A homemade beauty calendar of daily and weekly "musts" can be posted over the dressing table as a helpful reminder.

Among the daily items should be included a bath or shower, handwashing, whenever necessary, teeth brushing, an occasional check during the day to be sure your hair is neatly combed and complete soap-and-water removal of make-up before going to bed. Nightly sudging of stockings and lingerie should also be on the daily list.

TV IN SIGHT

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—If anybody asked me what's pleasurable viewing on the home screen from the three major networks in the coming week, I'd say (all times eastern standard):
I never put a buck on a horse, but a good horse race is almost as exciting as a good tennis match on television. Saturday at 4:30 NBC presents the Widener Handicap from Hialeah, Fla.
I tire quickly of westerns, but "Gunsmoke" on CBS Saturday at 10 still rides ahead of the whole passel in my opinion.
I know practically nothing about science, but I'm interested in learning "where science is taking us." This is the subject of a new series, "The Great Challenge," making its debut on CBS Sunday at 2:30. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is among the guests.
I know little more about music than science, but I thoroughly enjoy listening to the New York Philharmonic, and its conductor, Leonard Bernstein, always instructs me. So his program at 4:30 on Sunday over CBS with the Philharmonic called "The Infinite Variety of Music" sounds absorbing.
I'm a moderate man on the subject of variety shows, but week in and week out I think Steve Allen is doing a swell job over NBC Sundays at 8 and that Dinah Shore is doing an equally swell job over NBC at 9.
I'm always glad to look at a rerun of a show I have enjoyed seeing previously. If memory serves, "The Nightingale" was a good one on "Shirley Temple's Storybook." It will be seen again on ABC Monday at 7:30.
I'm constantly disappointed with the efforts of "Desilu Playhouse" on CBS Mondays at 10. But it could be worth taking a look Monday at Tony Randall starring in "Martin's Folly," a comedy about a do-it-yourself shipwright.
I'm a fellow who thinks that 14 or 15 of Shakespeare's plays are among the outstanding pleasures to be found in the English language. One of them, "Hamlet," will be presented in a TV adaptation by the old Vic company Tuesday at 9:30 over CBS on "Du Pont show of the month."

No Change Will Be Made In Game License Fees

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—A top state game official reported today the commission will retain its present general license fee despite declining revenues.
"We plan no increase in the present $3.15 license fee," declared M. J. Golden, executive director of the Game Commission.
He conceded, however, that "there is strong sentiment among the sportsmen to boost the present license fee."
"But the only conditions on which we would seek a general increase in license fees at this time would be if we could justify a boost by an expanded program," said Golden.
Golden said most of the allowable timber sales from state game lands were made several years ago and that oil and gas royalties have dwindled to "practically nothing."
The commission is a self-sustaining agency with revenues derived from license fees and its own sources of income. It receives no appropriations from the state's general fund.
The present game commission budget is $9,762,471.
Golden reported license sales have increased over the years and federal aid has also stepped up. The federal money comes from an 11 per cent tax on firearms and ammunition, which is reapportioned to the states.
Nearly 930,000 resident and 40,000 non-resident hunting licenses are sold in the state each year.
Golden said he will ask the legislature to boost license fees for fur dealers, fur farmers and game propagators.
"This move is not designed so much to produce revenue as to bring the license fees up to date with the costs of processing and distributing the licenses," said Golden.

County Holstein Club Holds Annual Banquet

At the annual meeting and banquet of Warren County Holstein Club, held at Lander Wednesday evening, Merton Reynolds was elected as new director. Selection of "Mert" was very appropriate, as he is herdsman at Warren State Hospital farm, where 220 head of purebred Holsteins are kept.
This is the largest herd of purebred Holstein in the county. At present, 116 are being milked, bringing over two tons of milk daily. This is still not enough to supply the needs of the institution. However, by breeding artificially with the proven sires, at Clarion, and an improved forage program, it is hoped to eventually make all the milk necessary.

Dragons End Mat Season With Perfect Slate

Warren Halts Titusville 22-13 as Tension Turns Meet Into Tough Rivalry

Warren High School adds another undefeated team in its record books.

Blue and White grapplers survived ten wrestling meets this season to become the only squad in this section of the State to boast an all-win no-loss slate.

Dragons made the final decision on being undefeated when they upset Titusville Rockets 22-13 at Titusville Thursday evening. The defeat was the Rockets' second of the season—both coming from Warren matmen.

The unmarred record is the first such for any WHS varsity sport since the 1935 unbeaten football squad. The last loss-free wrestling team in Warren High was in 1954, the first in Warren High wrestling history.

Other mat teams throughout this section had their perfect records shattered by the locals. First came Erie Strong Vincent, victors of 8 straight before meeting Dragons, Titusville fell 10 days later, 28-14, their first loss; Erie East's perfect slate was shaken up two weeks ago.

Warren has scored double victories over Oil City, Titusville and Corry; single wins over St. Marys, St. Vincent, and East.

The low scoring in last night's critical meet indicates the finest competitive spirit either squad was able to put forth under high-tension pressure. Rockets were out to upset Dragons. Wrestling Warren before, they knew what each Dragon was like, taking their time and thinking. Warren, on the other hand, knew Titusville had the stuff to beat them. Whether they could get past Titusville and go undefeated mounted pressure and tension on the Dragons the past week. The clean slate is the first for Dragon mentor Harold "Hal" Miller. Past two seasons of coaching here has brought him three losses on each schedule. Coach Miller deserves recognition for his outstanding work with the youth of our High School.

Trying to be perfect in his each and every move, caused many mistakes for both teams. Worked up over the possibilities of a win also caused squad members to forget many important notations their coaches had instructed them with.

Catch Blod of the Rockets said Warren was the best team he has ever seen from Warren.

Fish Commission Studying Fishing Sites

Engineering crews are studying potential fishing lake sites that have been recommended to Fish Commission.

Recommendation have been in response to the Commission's request in regards to its new program geared to construction of three new lakes every two years.

One crew is surveying locations in Westmoreland county and another in Luzerne county. The Westmoreland crew is also expected for survey sites in Clarion.

Purpose of these surveys is to obtain preliminary information on elevations and contours that would disclose approximate acreage and depth of an unpondment that might be constructed.

Frequent Brawls Spotlight Game In Syracuse, N.Y.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Assn., has that old bugaboo, department of fans, officials and players, to contend with again today.

The latest incident occurred Thursday night in Syracuse, N.Y., where the Syracuse Nats downed the Boston, Celts, 113-105.

Many times this season, Podoloff and the league have been taken to task for the lack of supervision and support given game officials in keeping the play within order. Thursday night's brawling occurred in the fourth quarter.

Referee Sid Borgia, became embroiled after remarks from a spectator. Ushers and police intervened after a brief exchange.

With five minutes to go, Syracuse George Dempsey and Boston's Bill Russell began swinging and Frank Ramsey also took up with Dempsey.

Three minutes later, Boston's Tom Heinsohn and Syracuse's Dolph Schayes began a slugging match. Syracuse Coach Paul Seymour tried to break it up, and got embroiled with Heinsohn.

That invited everyone and it took police five minutes to restore order.

Schayes led Syracuse with 33 points and Heinsohn had 24 for Boston.

How will Pittsburgh Pirates do in 1959?

That's the big question flitting through minds of Buccanier fans in the area as manager Danny Murtaugh corals his boys in the Florida sunshine for preliminary lumbering up.

And as you say, we're going to get it straight from the horse's mouth this spring—through WNAE's sportscaster.

Frank Filesi will be getting a first-hand look at the Pirates at Fort Myers to hob-nob with the boys on whom Pittsburgh is depending to give their big bi-centennial celebration a pennant boost.

Frank drove to Pittsburgh this morning where he was to board an Eastern Airlines flight at 3:30 p. m. for sunny Florida. After a three hour lay-over in St. Petersburg, he'll continue on to Fort Myers, which he hopes to reach by 11 p. m. tonight.

During his week with the Bucs, Frank will get interviews with all the top brass—player and management, which should give Pirate fans up this way the real low down on the Pittsburgh club. Filesi also plans an on-the-spot telephone report sometime next week.

The WNAE sportscaster was invited to Fort Myers by Pirates, which will pay his expenses while in camp. He will stay at Bradford Hotel with the team while in Florida.

Local sponsors who are sharing in the traveling and other expenses include Anderson's Baking Company, Riverside Bowling Lanes, Warren Beverage, Kirberger Jewelers and The Style Shop.

This is the first time that this has ever been attempted by a member station of Pirate network and it should prove to be quite an experience for Frank and all in this area.

Pirate fans will eagerly await Frank's report on the 1959 Buccaneers—an exclusive feature for WNAE and WRRN listeners.

GOLF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Wesley Ellis Jr., Aldecress, N.J., plodded through a chilling drizzle to a 5-under-par 66 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Texas Open.

KINGSTON, Jamaica B.W.I. — Ed Furgol, Bob Watson and Ed (Porky) Oliver each shot three-under-par 69s for a one-stroke lead after the first round of the Jamaica Open.

LAKE WORTH, Fla. — Louise Suggs, veteran pro from Sea Island, Ga., fired a par 70 to take a one stroke lead in the opening round of the Lake Worth Women's Open.

BASEBALL

MILWAUKEE—Left-hander Warren Spahn, the highest paid pitcher in the major leagues, came to terms with the Milwaukee Braves for an estimated $65,000.

ST. LOUIS—Red Schoendienst, 36, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, underwent surgery for removal of a portion of one lung in an effort to speed his recovery from tuberculosis.

FOOTBALL

DES MOINES, Iowa — Randy Duncan, Iowa's All-America, signed a professional football contract with British Columbia of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

SWIMMING

HOBART, Tasmania — Fourteen-year-old Lisa Konrads of New South Wales posted a time of 10 minutes 11.4 seconds and cut two-tenths of a second off her world record in winning the 880-yard free style championship at the Australian National Championships.

RACING

MIAMI — Aysha ($400) never was headed as she set a track record for a mile and a sixteenth on the turf course with a six-length victory in the feature at Hialeah.

BOWIE, Md. — War Bracelet ($11.60) won by a neck in a four-horse photo finish in the top event at Bowie.

ILLINOIS Teams Crowd Top Spot at the ABC's

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Four Illinois teams crowded into the top 10 of the American Bowling Congress Tournament open team division Thursday night.

But none could unseat Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton, Ohio, which took first place in the 72-day tourney on opening night.

East End Tavern of Monticello started off with 914, got warmer with 981 and then rolled 1040 for a total of 2935. That gave East End second place, just 20 pins short of the Ohio leaders.

The other Illinois teams which made the top 10 were Old Style Lager of Decatur, 2923, fourth place, Norma's Camera Shop, Decatur, 2899, seventh place and C & E Super Valu, Galesburg, 2850.

Standings in the singles doubles, all-events and booster team division remained unchanged.

Sisler Wants Improved Hitting by Buc Pitchers

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirate pitchers are being urged to follow the example of Milwaukee's great southpaw Warren Spahn — for his hitting.

"A fellow like Spahn would win about three games all by himself with his hitting," George Sisler said Thursday. "That's a difference of three games in the standings, so you can see what it means."

Sisler, Hall of Fame member who serves as the Pirates' special hitting instructor, addressed his remarks to the club's pitchers and catchers at the opening of spring training. Special batting drills followed.

It was pointed out that Spahn collected 36 hits last season on a less than the output of the entire Pirate mound corps.

NATIONAL INVITATION FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)

Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson have accepted bids to play in the National Invitation Golf Tournament April 29-May 3 at Colonial Country Club here.

Both area men are former U.S. Open, PGA, Masters and Western champions.

Their bids were the first issued to the Colonial this year.

Univ. of Denver Snaps Win-Streak Of Utah College

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Denver usually is associated with the best in college hockey and skiing. Now the Pioneers may come up with a championship basketball team and get into the NCAA tourney for the first time to help celebrate the state of Colorado centennial.

The Pioneers delighted a howling crowd of 2,900 Thursday night at the Denver fieldhouse as they snapped Utah's 11-game winning streak 67-62 and moved within half a game of the first place Utes in the Skyline Conference. Denver now has a conference record of 8-2 compared to Utah's 8-1. The Pioneers have four conference games left and Utah five.

The game highlighted a slum national program.

NYU beat Villanova 78-60 and St. Johns (NY) defeated Niagara 87-78 in a doubleheader before 10,125 at New York's Madison Square Garden. Butler, which beat Notre Dame Monday in three overtimes, had its seven-game winning streak snapped by Indiana State 88-87 in two overtimes.

Tigers Talk Three-Way Deal With Athletics

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said today there is a possibility of a three-way player deal that would involve the Kansas City Athletics and the Cleveland Indians.

Acting Gen. Mgr. Rick Ferrell said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press from the Tiger training base in Lakeland, Fla., that "a three-way deal is one of the things that interests us."

However, Ferrell said there is no truth to a published report that the Detroit club has offered outfielder Harvey Kuenn, pitcher Bill Hoft and third baseman Eddie Yost to Kansas City for outfielder Roger Maris and infielder Hector Lopez.

But he readily stated that Maris is the player the Tigers would like most to get. He also would like to land Larry Doby from Cleveland.

Bardstown Favored To Win Widener Feature

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Calumet Farm's Bardstown is the overwhelming choice of leading trainers to win Saturday's $100,000 added Widener at Hialeah Park if the track is fast.

Thirteen thoroughbreds are possible starters in the year's first big handicap for older horses with 7-year-old Bardstown an 8-5 favorite in the early line.

Other well regarded entrants are A Dragon Killer and Nadir. Also entered are Air Pilot, Talent Show, Hoop Band, Victory Morn, One-Eyed King, Ekaba, Ambehaving, Bill's Sky Boy, Admiral Vee, and Grey Monarch.

Ellis Shoots 5 Under Par in the Texas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Wesley Ellis Jr. showed off for his home town Thursday — he shot a 5-under-par 66 for the first round lead in the $20,000 Texas Open. But he said it may have been the worst thing he could have done.

Golfers along the tour say the toughest tournament to win is in your home town.

So Ellis, who grew up in San Antonio, played golf at the University of Texas, and now follows the weary tour out of Aldecress, N.J., quaked as he set out at the head of the pack in the second round of the ancient Texas Open today.

Greaves Meeting Gene Fullmer in New York Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Confident, young Willie Greaves believes he has improved enough in two years to reverse his loss to former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer.

The 22-year-old Canadian champ now fighting out of Detroit, will get the chance to square accounts with the 27-year-old Mormon from West Jordan, Utah, in the televised (NBC, 10 p.m. EST) 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fullmer is the 12-5 favorite.

Flatt Scores Lone Dragon Fall as Jayvees Conclude Successful Unthwart Year

Only one fall was scored—in both the varsity and jayvee bouts—in Warren's successful march against Titusville Rockets Thursday as Dragon Jaycees climbed over junior Rockets 11-9.

Gaid Flatt accomplished the lone pin over J. Conklin in the second period.

Jayvees put finishing touches to an undefeated season in the same order their varsity brothers. Vally Jewell coached the young Dragons through the triumphal season.

Pressure from jayvees could be sited to the success of the varsity grapplers. Competition among the junior wrestlers was so great for varsity positions in many cases, the big boys were forced into constant guard against any slipup.

Max Claypool concluded an excellent season with Warren, coming here from Slippery Rock a few weeks ago. Max decisioned Bush 3-0. Other decisions were taken by Roger Colvin over B. Conklin. Dropping their competition were Don Guiley, Mike Long and Lou Musante. Flatt's pin played an important role in securing the final victory for Warren.

Results:

Lbs. 95—Gail Flatt (W) pinned J. Conklin (T) second period 5-0.

95—Max Claypool (W) decisioned Bush (T) 3-0.

112—Murphy (T) decisioned Don Guiley (W) 3-0.

120—Knapp (T) decisioned Mike Long (W) 3-0.

127—Roger Colvin (W) decisioned Conklin (T) 3-0.

133—Rominton (T) decisioned Lou Musante (W) 3-0.

Schoendienst in Good Shape After Operation

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst was reported in good condition today after an operation expected to speed his recovery from tuberculosis but it remained unlikely he can play baseball this season.

The operation is not an unusual one for tubercular patients. The diseased portion of his right lung was removed in a three-hour operation.

Dr. William A. Werner, one of Red's physicians, said everything went according to plan.

Y-City Victories Posted by Hose, Blueberry Fives

Points continued to slip into the bottomless hole for Blueberry Hill in YMCA Thursday night as G. G. Greene went down with their ship, 96-48. Another Y-City loop game saw Style Shop bow to Struthers Hose 94-88.

A 16-point lead end of first period was never headed by Greene's Blueberry having a 46-24 halftime bulge.

D. Danielson hit for 24 Blueberry points, Schenck sank 20. Harrington, Angove, Lawton and Fuelhart all sank 8 for G. G. Greene.

Lindberg's 28 points led Struthers Hose to their win after fighting from a 4-point deficit at halftime. Struthers narrowed the lead to one point end of third then outshot Stylers 27-20 in final canto to ice the contest.

Kotmier was second highest for winners with 25. Karkosky and H. Berdine each sinking 24 for Style Shop.

Warren Out To Hold Meadville From Possible Top Sect. Honors

It's a natural that Warren doesn't want Meadville to enter a two-way tie for first place with Titusville, and it is possible if the Bulldogs and Rockets post victories in Section II tonight.

Warren and Meadville will clash on the 'Dog's court tonight. Joe Massa's cagers, recuperating from the 68-51 setback in Beatty by Titusville last week, are determined to halt a Meadville win for any chance at top honors.

Top scorer for Warren, second in the Section, Nicky Creola, will be out tonight gunning against top man in loop action, George Dewey, Titusville. Dewey leads Creola by 18 points. Nicky is the only Dragon cager in the top 12 scorers, Titusville having 2. Meadville 3, Franklin 3, one each for Cory and Oil City.

Good Weather Promised For Ski Championships

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The weatherman came up with a promise of blue skies for Saturday's start of the North American Ski Championships, all important Olympic dress rehearsal in the initial qualifying show for U. S. Olympic hopefuls.

Competitors from 14 nations took full advantage of Thursday's sunshine to ski, skate on the new quarter-mile speed oval and jump off the mammoth 80 meter (262 foot) jumping hill.

EARN VARSITY FOOTBALL LETTER

James Beckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Beckley, 15 Fourth avenue, has been awarded his varsity football letter at The Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, N. J.

He is president of Lodge, a senior house; a member of Glee Club, and the Inquirers Club. As a junior last year, he was selected a member of the sophomore-junior basketball team, and also earned a minor letter in football.

Before going to Lawrenceville, where he will graduate this year, Jim attended Warren High School. Last summer he had employment as an attendant at Warren State Hospital.

RIGNEY IMPROVING

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP)—Bill Rigney, San Francisco Giants manager who suffered a fractured jaw and collarbone in an auto crash Feb. 8, will leave Kaiser Permanente Hospital Saturday. He plans to join the Phoenix, Ariz., training camp of his National League baseball club late next week.

FORMER FIGHTER ILL
PARAMUS, N. J. (AP)—Former heavyweight boxer Lee Savold, 43, has been taken off the critical list at Bergen Pines Hospital where he was admitted Tuesday with a high fever.

TWO BRAVE CRIPPLES

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves may have to start the 1959 baseball season with Felix Mantilla or Casey Wise at second base.

Red Schoendienst, who underwent major surgery Thursday to speed his recovery from tuberculosis, definitely is out for the start of the season and it is unlikely that he can play all this year.

Other County teams on hardwood this evening is Upper Allegheny Valley leaders Youngsville Eagles, hosting Spartansburg at 8 p. m. Sparta's 4-4 in league action, holding down fourth place. Eagles shouldn't have any difficulty with their guests.

Northern Area, in fifth position with a 3-4 slate could score an upset when second position Pleasantville Falcons invade the Knight court.

Knocking Port Allegany from a possible 10-2 first place hold on Allegheny Mountain League Tuesday, Sheffield goes against Smethport, in AMFL cellar on the Hubbers' base. Wolverines' win Tuesday upset the Gators into second position.

Eagles' Playoff Bid Necessitates Game Changes

A change in Upper Allegheny Valley League playing schedule for next week has been announced.

All League games will be played Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week. Tuesday evening's games have been shifted to Monday evening. This includes Youngsville traveling to West Forest, Northern Area hosting East Forest.

March 3 games, Northern Area at Tidioute. Pleasantville at Youngsville, have been moved up to Wednesday night. The games scheduled for Friday evening will remain the same in UAV League, except the Youngsville-Northern Area clash on the Eagles' court. This will be scheduled later.

Reason for the various changes in playing was done to permit league-leading Youngsville to attend the District X Class playoffs late next week. Further information on the playoffs will be announced later.

Oddities in the News

NEW YORK (AP)—An infected finger has caused pianist Van Cliburn to postpone concert appearances through March 2.

A spokesman for Cliburn said the pianist had developed the infection under a finger nail on his right hand after a concert Wednesday night in Atlantic City, N.J.

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (AP)—Ten days ago, Arthur Laprade, 11, risked his life plunging into an ice-encrusted lake to rescue his mongrel dog, Pepper.

Arthur had to be rescued by a neighbor who smashed through ice for 15 feet.

Thursday a speeding car struck and killed the dog.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Here's what a pair of vivid imaginations can do to a set of facts.

Two 10-year-old boys rushed to police in suburban Darby. They said they saw four men beat a man in a white apron, throw him in the trunk of a car and drive off.

A little police checking brought out the facts. First, there were only two men, Angelo De Natale, 23, a mechanic, and his shop foreman, John Romanchick, 33. Second, they hadn't tossed a fist in anger.

Third, they were road-testing a customer's car and De Natale crawled into the trunk to check for noises.

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—A bill to create a state park near Columbus, N.M., which would carry Pancho Villa's name has been approved by the New Mexico Senate. On March 9, 1916, the Mexican revolutionary leader led his band across the border in a raid on Columbus, killing 17 people.

HAVANA (AP)—The action was lively at eight Havana casinos which were allowed to reopen Thursday night.

The tables in six luxury hotels and two nightclubs were given 30-day permits by Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime. The rebels closed down all gambling when they took over.

Funeral Information Will Be Found Under Another Heading

INFANT ALBAUGH

The Rev. A. C. Spencer, of First Free Methodist church, will conduct funeral services at 2:30 p. m. Saturday for Shane Richard Albaugh, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Albaugh, 229 Pennsylvania avenue, west. Interment will follow in Barnes cemetery.

The child, born at Warren General Hospital November 5, 1958, was found dead in his crib in the family apartment about 10:00 a. m. Thursday. Completing his investigation, Coroner Ed C. Lowrey has issued a certificate of accidental suffocation.

Besides the parents, Richard and Maria Albaugh, the baby leaves one sister, Lynn; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alberta Speaker, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Adeline Gheres, both of Warren; and the great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Albaugh, Irvine.

Funerals

INFANT ALBAUGH—Friends are being received at the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home at the usual calling hours, starting at 2:00 p. m. today, and services will be held there at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. The Rev. A. C. Spencer, of First Free Methodist church, will officiate and interment will be made in Barnes cemetery.

JACK RIVETT—Friends will be received at the Young Funeral Home in Youngsville at the usual calling hours, starting at 7:00 p. m. Saturday. Arrangements for services are incomplete and will be announced later.

BOBBIE ROWLAND—Friends will be received at the Young Funeral Home in Youngsville at the usual calling hours, starting at 7:00 p. m. Saturday. Arrangements for services have not been completed and will be announced later.

Aviation

planes flying under visual flight rules are responsible to be alert for planes under ground control.

Spink said some of the 34 passengers were shaken up when he piloted the airliner 600 feet to avoid the jet-jet bomber.

Erks said his B47 was climbing as it passed within 300 feet of the airliner. Its communications were with a ground radar unit.

Twenty-three passengers were aboard the American Airlines plane, which executed a tight bank to avoid a Navy plane at 7,000 feet near Indianapolis, the airline pilot said.

In the Eastern airliner incident, the Miami-bound plane was flying at 23,000 feet on an instrument flight plan. The pilot said he hadn't been informed of military craft in his vicinity.

Beck Jailed

the shores of Lake Washington in Seattle.

Just three years ago he was a respected millionaire businessman, international president of the Teamsters Union—considered the largest in the country—and a vice president of the AFL-CIO. Today he is under the shadow of two convictions. Beck was sentenced to not more than 15 years in prison after a 1957 conviction for grand larceny in the embezzlement of $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned Cadillac. The State Supreme Court is scheduled to hear his appeal next March.

Beck's big trouble began when he appeared before the Senate Labor-Management Committee in 1957 and invoked the Fifth Amendment more than 150 times. He said then he could probably clear everything up with a few minutes in the court of law.

automobile, aircraft and farm implement workers whose pay is adjusted to movements of the index. They have had no cost-of-living increase since last summer.

About 82,000 workers, mostly in the aircraft industry, whose contracts have a formula on a different base, will gain a penny-an-hour pay increase. These workers had taken a one-cent drop in October.

Claque said the outlook for the next few months is for continued comparative stability in living costs.

Most

it. It was a snappy, breath-taking 34 degrees below zero this morning in the northern Lower Michigan community. In Wisconsin, Lone Rock was not exactly a hot spot with a mark of -22.

The below zero belt extended from eastern Montana eastward into the Great Lakes region.

The fairly mild winter weather in the Northeast disappeared quickly as blustery northerly winds carried the frigid air across the Great Lakes region into the mountains from West Virginia and northward into New England. Snow accompanied the cold air and wind gusts of 40 to 50 m.p.h. raked the middle and north Atlantic states. Boston's 6 above compared with 35 Thursday morning.

The chilly winds blew snow into extreme northern parts of Texas and Louisiana, with falls in some Texas areas ranging from one to two inches. Freezing rain and sleet also fell in the area while rain fell in other parts of Texas and Louisiana.

Driver

Fireman W. F. Wachin, also of Erie.

Jack Rivett was driving the truck in which young Rowland was a passenger, the pair having stopped at City Ice and Beverage Co., Market street, Warren at about 8:30 a. m. to pick up a tank of acetylene gas, where Rivett signed the purchase order for the Rouse Home where he was a county employee. Rivett was driving when the pair left the Youngsville Home and it's believed that he was behind the wheel during the return trip and when the crash occurred. Both died from severe skull fractures and multiple injuries. Bodies were removed to a Youngsville funeral home.

Jack Ray Rivett was a former member of the Warren borough police department, having joined the force December 9, 1951, resigned September 5, 1953. He was born May 16, 1919 and is survived by his widow and several children.

Bobbie Rowland, a Youngsville High School graduate, is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rowland and two brothers, Rodney, 22, and Randy, 6. Mr. Rowland is superintendent of the Rouse Home and the entire family resided there as well as his grandmother.

Trooper William Timmis of the Warren State Police Barracks joined in the investigation, his report confirming all available details. The actual cause of the fatality has not been established and because there were no witnesses to the crash, the reason may remain forever unknown. Some employees and guests at Rouse Home saw sections of the truck flying in mid air immediately following the impact and reports from railroad personnel state that those aboard witnessed the flight of the main part of the truck body after being struck.

Warren County Commissioners arrived on the scene on the heels of the Times-Mirror reporter to learn details and comfort the bereaved members of both families, who stood within the Rouse Home shocked with utter disbelief.

Dr. Richard A. Peters, Youngsville physician, examined the bodies and pronounced instantaneous death. The doctor had stopped at the Home on a routine call right after the accident had happened.

One of Five Famous Marines To Be Honored

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—One of the five famous Marines who helped raise the American flag at Mt. Suribachi on Iwo Jima during World War II will be honored Sunday by the Marine Corps Reserve's 24th Infantry Co.

A new rifle range will be dedicated in the memory of Sgt. Michael Strank who was killed in action just 10 days after former Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal snapped the renowned picture of the flag-raising.

A stainless steel plaque stamped with an image of the flag-raising will be unveiled at the range by the sergeant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Strank of nearby Franklin Borough.

The plaque was purchased with funds from eight veterans' groups in the Johnstown area.

Youth Returns To Chautauqua After Surrender Here

Robert Brightman, Route 1, North Clymer, waived extradition when he appeared before Judge Alexander C. Fick, Jr. this morning and was bound over to Chautauqua County (N. Y.) authorities to face two charges of armed robbery.

Brightman was brought to Warren Wednesday by Corry State Police after he was captured in a barn. He had plotted to take the life of a young man who knew of his operations when he entered the barn Tuesday night.

The 17-year-old youth initially admitted robbing a shoe-repair store in Jamestown Monday and a Frewsburg liquor establishment Tuesday at gun point. His shooting iron was a single-shot Civil War "horse pistol" with a 7 1/2-inch barrel. The weapon was in working order.

Returning Brightman to New York State were Lt. Earl Thies of Jamestown police force and Undersheriff Merle Campaign.

Sewage Disposal Facilities Chief Headache in Pa.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Lack of sewage disposal facilities was listed as one of the chief headaches of mayors, burgesses and chamber of commerce directors today in a survey by the Pennsylvania State University.

Robert A. Sigafos, acting director of the school's Institute of Local Government, said 40 of the 200 officials questioned listed lack of sewer lines and treatment plants as the main problem in their community.

Parking and traffic problems were listed in 21 other communities.

General physical blight was listed by 15 urban areas and 14 rated decay of the central or downtown business district as the community's most critical problem.

Other problems listed by local officials in the survey were inability to extend political boundaries through annexation, damage by surface water runoff from new residential areas, inadequate public water supply, uncontrolled residential subdivision growth, lack of proper flood control facilities and lack of locations for the disposal of trash and garbage.

Massachusetts Has New Withholding Law

BOSTON (AP)—Beginning this week virtually everybody in Massachusetts with a job will collect a smaller pay check.

That's because a newly enacted state law withholding personal income taxes went into effect Feb. 15.

But it will affect more than those who work for wages and salaries.

Each quarter, it will reach into the pockets of the self-employed and those living on unearned incomes. Such persons are faced with the knotty problem of estimating how much they will earn, or whether the stock they own will pay any dividends in the year ahead—and how much. If they guess too high, it will be many months before they can get the money back.

Lizards in Stomach Results in Murder

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—"My stomach boiled all the time. There were lizards in my stomach. I decided to put a stop to it," Jack Sanders, 31, said after he shot his aunt to death.

Sanders, a Negro, said his aunt, Susan Arrington, 60, had caused all his trouble by hoodooing him. The woman's body, a pistol wound near her heart and flowers in her hands, was found in a country lane, 14 miles north of here in Jasper County.

SCHOOLS ORDERED CLOSED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two schools in Somerset and Lebanon counties were under orders to close down today. The state Industrial Board has rejected their appeals for more time to correct fire hazards.

They are the Boswell school, Somerset County, and Myers-town Elementary School, Lebanon County. Their appeals were heard by the board last week.

UNUSUAL TRAGEDY

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—Two children, taken to safety once when their one-room frame house caught fire today, wandered back into the flaming dwelling and burned to death.

Their mother was burned seriously in getting three other children outside before the roof collapsed.

Debbie Shows Up for Another Day on the Lot

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Debbie Reynolds, 26, the film colony's latest divorcee, was swept up in the activities of a busy career today.

The ex-Mrs. Eddie Fisher surprised friends on the 20th Century-Fox lot by showing up immediately after the divorce was granted Thursday, although she'd been given the day off.

Debbie explained she's anxious to finish the picture, "Say One For Me," as soon as possible. Plans call for her to leave next week for Spain on location for another movie.

Elephant Bones 3,000 Years Old Discovered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fragment of a glacier-preserved bone from a giant prehistoric elephant has been found to be in remarkably fresh condition at least 3,000 years after the mammoth died.

This was reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by two physiologists of the University of California, Berkeley.

They are researchers H. C. Ezra and S. F. Cook. They said they studied the specimen as part of a comparison of fresh and fossilized bones. Their report was published in the technical journal "Science."

New York's American Museum of Natural History provided the preserved specimen, a chunk of leg bone from skeleton of a mammoth discovered in 1907 at Elephant Point in Eschscholtz Bay, Alaska.

Gas Company Reduces Service to Industries

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sub-zero weather today resulted in the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. reducing its deliveries of natural gas to about 170 industrial customers, most of them in Western Pennsylvania.

As a result of the curtailment some 50 per cent of the gas normally used by industries will be channelled to home-users. A company spokesman said there had been unusually heavy withdrawals of gas from underground storage pools in the past two months.

Sub-zero readings were common today throughout Western Pennsylvania. At Kane a low of 12 below was reported.

Roosevelt's Ancient Packard for Museum

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A 1932 Packard auto used by Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was governor of New York will be turned over to the State Museum.

The state recently tried to sell the car to the Roosevelt Memorial Library at Hyde Park for $1. It was refused for lack of space.

Meadville Bus Service Will End This Weekend

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Bus service in this Crawford County city will end at midnight Saturday when Meadville City Lines, Inc., abandons this portion of its service.

The company has been citing a lack of business for months.

BUS OWNER DISAPPEARS

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Some 40,000 persons in the Kankakee area, most of whom have been complaining about their bus service, have, preface, quit beefing. There isn't any.

The disappearance of Victor E. Curtis, owner of the Kankakee Motor Coach Company, his wife, their two children, and three of the company's buses was discovered Thursday.

Moisture Creams Are Boon to Skin Health

Newest of the night creams is the one this girl is applying. It does its work lightly and well, restoring moisture to the skin and smoothing away lines.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

As night creams get better and better, women have real cause to be grateful for the research that accounts for the vast improvement in these beauty aids.

Moisture creams were the first great break-through in restoring and holding moisture in a dry skin. For without moisture, no skin can look smooth or young.

But some of the moisture creams were heavy and required much massage to do the trick. So even they were not entirely the answer.

Now this particular problem has been solved, according to the maker of a new, light moisture cream. This cream, which has just been placed on the market, is designed to do its work quickly and lightly. Yet its lubricating quality can produce an improved skin texture, a healthy glow and a younger looking skin, its maker says.

This is not an inexpensive cream. But there is a small size which is budget-priced for every woman's purse.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 10:10—"I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." (RSV)

To be fully alive from tip to toe, sensing the harmony amid all the discord, the glory amid all the equal; and to find and perform well one's true place in the great scheme of things: What greater gift can one ask of life? Here lies the secret of true happiness and peace.

And yet how few really experience life on this deeper level. We go through the motion of living; we exist; we vegetate; but there is no halo about the passing days. There are no flying banners or blowing trumpets. Life is a gloomy chore when it should be a radiant adventure.

It was to correct this defect or deficiency that Jesus came among men. Those who accepted His leadership found life taking on vaster dimensions. Their days were transformed from a funeral dirge into a hallelujah chorus. What He did for them, He can do for us, today, if we will but give Him a chance.

Now's the Time for Homework on Legs

The late winter and early spring months are the ones when leg work counts. This girl uses a lotion on her legs before donning hosiery and again at night, after her bath.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

Late winter and early spring bring the weeks when a girl really needs to do some homework on her legs if she wants them smooth and pretty for warm weather.

To give your feet and legs a rest, take a tip from professional dancers. They rest their feet and legs by lying on the floor with legs propped up against the wall at an angle to the body. You can do this or you can lie down on couch or bed with your feet propped higher than your head. But not just a little higher—a lot higher!

Short skirts continue in fashion, sheer and tinted nylons will abound this spring and shoes in vivid colors will draw attention to your legs. So now's the time to put in some leg work.

The ideal time to remove that red roughness that winter brings is on a right after your bath. Use

Soil Surveying is Now Under Way in Sixty Counties

Soil surveying of Pennsylvania's 28.8 million acres for agricultural, industrial and government uses is now underway in 60 counties by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. To date more than 8.6 million acres of the State's soil resources have been surveyed, according to a report issued by Ivan McKeever of the Soil Conservation Service. His report showed that soil survey production reached an all time high during 1958 when more than 1.2 million acres were surveyed leaving 20.1 million acres to be surveyed. 3,458 acres of Warren County were surveyed to determine soil, slope and erosion for use by farmers in the county.

The soil conservation districts of Lancaster, Potter, Clinton, Montour, Northumberland, Union, Erie, Clarion and Chester have been completely surveyed and technicians of the Soil Conservation Service are now surveying in 41 of the Commonwealth's soil conservation districts not yet completed.

The surveys are used by agricultural workers, farmers, community planning commissions and real estate developers. Contractors and earth excavators find the survey useful in planning construction work, road building and land drainage.

One of the greatest uses of the survey, according to McKeever, is made by agricultural technicians working with the State's farmers in developing plans for soil and water, woodland and wildlife conservation. Technicians find the surveys helpful in determining the ability of the soil to produce crops. And the survey provides information for arriving at the kind of conservation practices needed to protect the land from soil erosion.

HEART OFFICER

Harold LaPoint, above, president of the Warren County Heart Association, has been elected by the Pennsylvania Heart Association, to be a representative on the state board of directors for a three-year term.

He has also been appointed to the Warren County Self-Study committee which is headed by Dr. Frederick R. Frank, Pittsburgh. Purpose of the committee is to evaluate services given chapters by the Pennsylvania Heart Association, to explore the present needs of chapters and to make appropriate recommendations on anticipated guidance and from the state association on a long-range planning basis.

The local heart chapter, sponsored by the Warren Lions Club, is now conducting a campaign during this month to raise funds for its three-fold program: community service, public education, and research, and contributions are gratefully accepted.

$500,000 Student Loan Fund for the Univ. of Penn'a

A $500,000 student loan fund has been established at the University of Pennsylvania by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Butcher III, Mr. Butcher is an alumnus of the University, graduating in 1923 from the College.

In announcing the establishment of this loan fund Mr. Butcher stipulated that it be made available to any male student of "any nation, race, color or creed in any school or department of the University of Pennsylvania."

Accepting the gift on behalf of the University, President Gaylord P. Harnwell said: "Mr. Butcher's gift is a major landmark in the University's program for helping able students not only gain an education but at the same time to gain a sense of responsibility for the value that education represents and for paying back to future generations the benefits that they have enjoyed."

Under its terms the revolving loan fund will allow the benefiting student part of his total living costs and tuition during each academic year. The student and his family must meet at least one third of these costs through their own resources. A University Committee will review student applications and determine recipients.

The low interest loan rates will be repayable, on a graduated scale, to the University with the first payment coming due the middle of the first year after the student receives his degree. The interest rates will increase moderately over the years in recognition of the student's ability to progress in his business or profession and thus make larger repayments.

Penn'a Business Survey for Dec. Reveals a Gain

University Park — December business in Pennsylvania showed a general gain from November levels and in many cases improvement over a year ago.

This was reported by the Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State University in the monthly magazine, "Pennsylvania Business Survey."

There were, however, several marked exceptions.

Unemployment was 4 per cent higher than in November and 35 per cent higher than in 1957. It represented 10 per cent of the civilian labor force.

Carloadings in the Allegheny district were down 4 per cent both from the previous month and the previous year.

And two important series—factory employment and steel production—remained virtually at November levels and below a year ago.

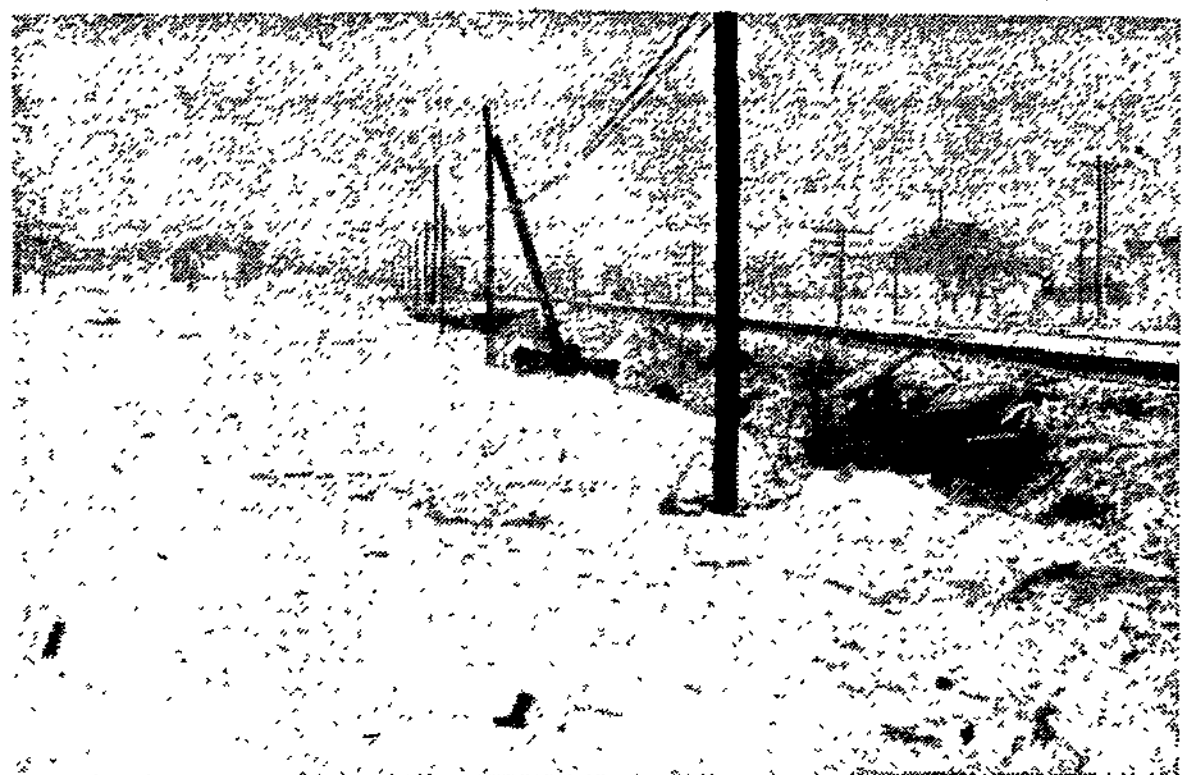

Among the statewide indicators which gained over both the previous month and the previous year were the following: index of general business, index of industrial activity, bank deposits, anthracite production, building contracts awarded, electricity production, industrial power sales, sales of ordinary life insurance, postal receipts, and street railway revenue traffic.

The gain in street railway revenue traffic over a year ago was a departure from the customary downward movement but the rise was occasioned by the strike that was in progress in Pittsburgh in 1957.

Another favorable development noted by the Bureau was the drop which occurred in the consumers' price index and in the index of retail food costs. In November, they were 123.8 and 122.1 respectively; in December, 123.7 and 121.2.

The summary for the Warren area follows:

Warren business was good for the last two months of 1958. Industrial power sales were the third highest on record for No-

BOOTS TELL GRIM STORY: In this Stokes Studio picture is shown a scene of the fatal grade crossing accident at Rouse Home just east of Youngsville this morning shortly after nine o'clock. In the foreground may be seen in widely separated spots, boots worn by the victims, at the extreme left is the passenger train, which was still awaiting completion of the preliminary investigation. Main portion of the pickup truck is shown to the right and some distance west may be seen other pieces of the vehicle. Both occupants, Bobby Rowland, 17, and Jack Rivett, 41, both of the Rouse Home, were killed instantly. See other picture on page one.

November, December and the year.

Postal receipts and telephones were at record high points for both months as well as for the year. Building operations were the lowest on record for November since 1950, at the second highest point for December since 1952, and at the highest point for the year since 1953.

Flood Committee To Attend Kinzua Dam Discussion

Warren Chamber of Commerce Flood Control Committee met Thursday afternoon and decided to visit both Washington and Harrisburg to push flood control measures in this area.

Chamber committee will visit Maurice Goddard, secretary of Department of Forests and Waters in Harrisburg to ask support in receiving immediate flood relief.

Merle Kremer, committee chairman and Bernard Gofberg, of Deluxe Metal, a member of the committee, will meet in Washington with legislators on the Kinzua Dam matter.

Kremer told his committee Thursday that, according to Army engineers, the high water level in Warren last month would have been from seven and a half to nine feet, instead of 16½ feet if the dam had been built.

Leaving by plane from Bradford next Thursday along with Kremer and Gofberg, will be Commissioners Blain Mead and Lewis Crippen; James Kannan and David Swanson of Warren County Planning Commission; Borough Manager George Geradimos. Other Warren men are expected to make the trip.

DEBATE IN JAMESTOWN

John Franson of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce will discuss the Kinzua Dam site at a round table discussion sponsored by the Jamestown, N. Y. League of Women Voters Saturday in the Hotel Jamestown. Two Jamestown men will speak in favor of the Conewago site.
